With the beginning of the '71-'72 school year came a new stadium; one football game won. another lost, and the election of officers for the senior, junior, and sophomore classes.

Central has a stadium for the first time in 24 years. With the help of the Boosters' Club, alumni, patrons, and numerous school clubs and organizations. the home of the Purple Pounders was completed before the opening of school.

During the first two weeks of school, the following classes selected their officers:

When the drum-rolls signal the beginning of the 1971 "Fairest of the Fair" beauty pageant Monday evening at 7:30 on the Fair Grounds, 23 lovely young ladies from 10 area schools and colleges will be on the stage competing for the coveted title. Each will have already come through the preliminary judging with individual interviews with the judges at the beautiful Belle Mont Club on Lookout Mountain Contestants will be judged 25 per cent on poise and personality and 75 per cent on beauty. Roy Morris of WRCB Televisian Station will emece the pageant of which Mrs. Doris Strawn is director. Mrs. Noble J. Simmons Jr. and Mrs. Sam F. Robinson are codirectors.

The girls will compete in fulllength evening attire with background music furnished by Edd Shalett and his "Fair-Time Band." The top five girls will receive trophies in addition to the one to be presented to Miss Congeniality.

The winner will receive the title of "Fairest of the Fair" and will represent the ChattanogaHamilton County Interstate Fair

Teachers, Students Break Molds Experimenting With Ways to Learn

By WILLIAM K. WARREN
Archie Bunker, the higoted hero of television's "All in the Family," took his place between Paul Revere and Huckleberry Finn with Rip
Van Winkle, Julie, Scarlett
O'Hara and Lady Macbeth
standing nearby.
Nobody mentioned the incongruity of the lineup, since it was all part of an attempt to put some fun into the learning experience at the Laving Curriculum Conference on Jan. 27 and 28 at Central High School.
The Tyner High School students who provided "characterizations from literature" were just a few of the boys and girls from 16 Hamilton County secondary schools who demonstrated how language can be brought to life.

While the Tyner student was keeping Archie Bunker in fast literary company, his tangible learning tools.

Students from Soddy Daisy High School performed their tailored version of "Spoon River Anthology," while a few doors away the hillbilly sounds of "That Good Old Mountain Dew," sung by suitably clad teen-agers, filled another classroom.

And in yet another room in one of the circular pods that make up Central High School, a band of medieval castle dwellers gathered in a "mead hall" to sample the cullinary arts of the Middle Ages.

By simply opening the door to another classroom, the visitor could leap from the Middle Ages to the 20th Century and view flims produced by aspiring young Cecil B. DeAillies.

And those were just samples of the things to be seen and heard at the two-day conference. Some 21 rooms were filled with exhibits of students' work, emphasizing the impact of language, literature and related fine arts on American culture.

The humanities approach to English and foreign language teaching also attracted some 100 visitors from representative school systems in Ten-val castles to reproductions of the "Battle of Lookout Mountain," from paintings to motion pictures, from weaving to stained glass windows.

The conference also attracted a number of guest speakers and exhibitors, including Jean M. Pettinelli, cultural attache of the Services Culturals Francais, K. C. Dean, British vice consul; and Roland H. A. Gottlieb, German consul.

Tennessee's "Living Curriculum" will get national attention in the next few months at the March 17-22 annual convention of the National Association of Se cond a ry School Principals in Anahiem, Calif. W. Hobart Millsaps, principal of Central High School and president of NASSP, said a film on the program will be presented at one of the conference's 'concurrent sessions.' Students were not the only ones to get into the act at the Central High School conference. Some 48 teachers presented demonstrations of the many facets of the "Read-In, Write-In, Speak-In Renaissance" theme.

It Could Happen

I can see the out-of-town sports writers in the stands now. Radio announcers broadcasting back home the play-by-play.
Western Union runners would be at the stadium and Chattanooga would make the state wire services again.

People would bring life back to Engel Stadium. It would be like giving the old place a translusion. For three days, Engel Stadium would be in the news. Not just for a regular season game or the Mountain Valley League or UT Chatta-nooga or Temple or Covenant.

This would be the state TSSAA baseball tournament. The best high school baseball in Tennessee would be an town. A champlon would be crowned.

A champion would be crowned.
They keep saying Chattanooga is the amateur sports center of the South. Everyone has doubls about that now.

HOBART MILLSAPS

beginning to turn.

Chattanoga once had a state baseball tourney about eight years ago. It was played at Darwin Field. The state track meet was held at Brainerd in 1964. There's no chance at all of a state basketball tournament here and TSSAA officials, in so many words, say the chances of a state track meet here again are slim.

Because It's Cheap

TSSAA wishes to hold the golf, tennis and decathlon events in Nashville simply because it's cheap. You don't make money in golf, tennis and decathlon.

For the most part, state baseball tourneys have been held in Kingsport, Nashville or Memphis, site of the 1972 tourna-ment June 5-7.

None of the above cities offer a facility like Engel Stadium could be. With a little extra care for the grass, it would be like the good old days when the Lookouts roamed the vast domain called a baseball diamond, A nail or two in the standsmight help, too. A broom could get rid of the dust.

The TSSAA board of control authorizes the TSSAA executive secretary to select sites for the spring state tournaments. Hobort Millsaps, Central High School principal who serves on the board, thinks it would be a good idea of having the baseball tourney in Chattanooga. And he thinks it could be done.

"The selection of sites is left up to the discretion of TSSAA," Millsaps said. "We look primarily at, first, the facility and secondly the gate receipt potential. And the facility here (Engel Stadium compares very favorably to any I have seen which noted the state tournament."

Millsaps went on to say Nashville TPS hosted a state baseball tourney and the facility couldn't accommodate more than 400 people. Engel Stadium can seat close to 10,000. But every one knows it wouldn't be filled.

"I'll certainly do everything legitimately possible to get the tournament for Chattanooga," added Milsaps.

TSSAA points out that even baseball tournaments seldom make money. An exception was the 1968 tourney in Tollahoma. Franklin County played in every game that year and eventually won the tournament.

A Matter of Bidding

Selection of the 1972 tournament sites comes up at the August board of control meeting. It's not that hard to get a spring state tourney, it's just that Chatanooga hasn't made a bid for the tournament recently. Milisaps will be making a pitch for Chattanoga this year, however.

"Right off hand, I don't see why Chattanooga couldn't be tournament," TSSAA director of publicity Bob Baldridge said via phone this week. "I haven't seen the facility there, but I'm sure Engel Stadium would be more than suitable for the event."

the event."

I guess there is still a slight chance of UTC finding some way to get money for the stadium. I'm not saying Engel Stadium won't be torn down. But UTC doesn't need a new stadium and Engel Stadium doesn't need to be torn down. It would be great to see some banners waving around the stadium once again. And see kids running around with cokes and hot dogs and smell popcorn.

How would you like to see 700 or 800 people at the old hall park? It could happen. And how long has it been since the concession stand operator ran out of cokes? It could happen. And how would you like to see the state baseball tournament in Engel Stadium?

It could happen.

Power Shifts Shaping As High Schools Start Drills

It will be a few weeks before fans know for sure, but it appears a shift in high school football football power is certain around Chattanooga this season. Kirkman, Notre Dame, Red Bank and possibly Baylor and McCallie on a lesser scale, have apparently benefited from the federal zoning regulations in the city, Kirkman reported a record Airkman reported a record 48 at Friday's practice, Red Bank had 71 including a healthy new crop from Signal Mountain, and Notre Dame started with 43, including some of the finest young talent ever to walk on an Irish practice field.

Coaches have had a chance to see their new material briefly at Friday and Saturday practice sessions but they speak with caution.

"We got approximately 32 sophomores," said Frank Cofer at Red Bank, about seven from Signal Mountain, We've been getting three or four from there — and these are fine looking boys."

Cofer said he got all the boys he expected from Red Bank Junior High and none from other schools. None of Notre Dame Coach Nick Bratcher looked at perhaps the most talented Notre Dame the most talented Notre Dame team in his eight years at the school, although most of the new talent is in the sophomore class. Probably sophomore class. Probably the best junior high player in town last year, halfback Reggie Mathis from North-side, is in the Irish camp. The Negro stands 6-2 and weighs 199 and has been clocked in 10. 1 for 100 yards. Some coaches consider him the best young football prospect this town has seen in a decade

Also in camp are halfback Robbie Carpenter from Dale-wood, halfback David May-field from Elbert Long, fullback-linebacker Adrian Grimes from Dalewood and end Steve Kranski from Tyner

On top of that, a good sophomore tackle named Mike Rienart transferred in from Morristown West and Lance Richey, a standout 185-pound fullback who was ineligible at Red Bank last year, is back at Notre Dame. He played for the Irish as a sophomore.

Those new faces plus others joined a squad that lost only four players to graduation.

"Things are looking better than I've ever seen them here," said Bratcher. "I'd have to say we benefited from the change." season with a mere 29 players last season and closed with a 2-8 record.

New coach Tommy Runyon was pleased with the 55 boys who reported at Central. That represents an increase over last year. He said there were no new faces except the usual junior high boys. Central has lost a junior guard, Buck Jeffery, who was the team's best blocker last season. He moved to Clarksville.

Tony Martino worked with about 65 players on opening day at Hixson. He lost Danny Southerland, a first-string safety last year. He moved to Knoxville.

Only 32 reported at Soddy Daisy Friday but more were on hand at Saturday's prac-tice and Coach Harland Burnette seems optimistic. The total number will be up about 12 by the time the season opens, he thinks.

"I'm tickled to death with these boys," he said. Many close to Soddy Daisy's athletic program expect the Trojans to have a big year.

Hardest hit by the zoning was City, which was down to 35 boys Friday, and Riverside, which reported only 20 at Friday's practice, Kirkman's 48 players represents the largest squad in the school's history and includes some transfer lettermen. Georgia schools have had no organized practice sessions. Rossville's Lynn Murdock starts drills Aug. 16 and Lakeview, under Jack Archer, will work together for the first time in shorts Mon-

Baylor coach E. B. (Red) Etter expects about 70 to report Aug. 16, an increase of about 10 over last year. Baylor will have one of its biggest sophomore squads ever - 32. Eighty per cent of the roster will be made up of town boys and perhaps the brightest of the new ones is sophomore Bobby Edmondson, a 6-2, 201-pounder last spring who arrives from Tyner Junior. Oth-er top sophomores are Tim Tucker from Boyd Buchanan, Danny Anderson from Brai-nerd Junior, Ray Atcheley from J. B. Brown, Gary Kleinau from Dalewood and Tim Pendergrass from Northside.

McCallie opens practice Aug, 19 under new coach Jim Norris. Norris is out of town this week.

East Ridge coach Raymond James said 89 boys have reported for drills. This is about 17 more than last year. "But we have no boys from the city and we have lost none," said James.

Last year on its home field in its opening game, Kirkman avenged four consecutive losses to Central in securing its first win over the Purple Pounders,

The Hawks were supposed to have a fantastic team and until injuries slowed them down, they were rolling along like an ol' locomotive coming down the tracks.

But their cart was bumped and the Hawks were derailed by East Ridge, Baylor and Hixson before jumping back on the win-ning track and finishing with a 5-5 season.

Central was even worse offthe Pounders won only one game last year while tying one. The one victory was a 48-8 triumph over Notre Dame while they tied powerful Red Bank 14-

And, just to add to your notes, it's official now that all city schools, playing on their home fields, must have their games completed and the area cleared before complete darkness and must be scheduled so as not to interfere with school.

The message came in a memorandum from city schools superintendent Dr. Jim Henry. He said the ruling would be in effect until further notice.

Coaches have been given pets mission to start games as latt as they please as long as they conform to the stated ruling. The only exception would be an unavoidable delay, in which case the game would be played under the lights.

Central Debut Recalls Memories Of Teams Before Switch in Site

Central may now be located at Harrison, but as far as the school's coaches, and players are concerned the institution is the same tradition-steeped one that dominated Tennessee high school football in earlier days of glory.

Last year was a disaster (1.8-1), but Central has a new head coach, new football field, new enthusiasm, experienced personnel and a spirited booster's club, a batch of ingradients that

Eakin Scores Twice: Leads Brainerd to Win

Rebels Use Sharp Passing Attack To Crush Central Pounders, 35-8

By REX SANDERS

Several college football coaches, notably Darrell Royal of Texas, believe three things can happen when you throw the football and two of them are bad—an incompletion and an interception.

But Brainerd Coach Pete Potter must not have been listening to Royal and his cohorts when they jumped on Wilson's fumble folpassed on that information. If he was listening, he didn't believe it because he used the pass to its great-est advantage Friday night in Brainerd's 35-8 victory over Central.

Brainerd quarterback Ricky Watson threw the ball 10 times during the game, and hit on six for 72 yards and a touch-down to flanker Jerry Chestnutt from 28 yards out

The passing came at oppor-tune times and mixed well with the running of halfbacks Kenny Kovacevich, Labron Roberts and Bill Eakin

The Rebels got the scoring started off shortly before the end of the first quarter when,

Both teams bogged for most of the second quarter until the lat-ter stages when Brainerd start-ed another drive from its own

The Rebels came out after half time and took the Central kickoff 60 yards for a score, Bill Eakin climaxing the drive with a one-yard plunge.

POUNDER'S HOLD 19-3-2 MARK IN THE RIVALRY

Rebels, Irish Clash At Brainerd; Baylor Hosts Oak Ridge

By WARD GOSSETT News-Free Press Sports Writer

The Red Bank-Central rivalry goes way back to the last year Dean Peterson coached the Pur-ple Pounders (1942). Red Etter took over the coaching reins the following year and his teams seemed to hold some kind of mystical power over the Lions and they are anxious to see if it-works this year.

In that first game in '42, the Pounders blasted Red Bank 53-0, in Etter's first year Central won 13-0. Central continued its Mas-tery over the Lions, rolling up 17 victories before Red Bank finally managed a 19-19 tie in 1963. Central then reeled off three more victories under Etter's guiding hand before being tied 7-7 in '67. It was the calm before the storm. A sign was there, but everyone failed to see it.

The following year the Pouders were rolling along toward a probable state championship with a 5-0 record already under their belis. They had already knocked off Memphis Carver, City, Riverside, Howard and Brainerd and were an 0, but Red Bank pulled the up-set, winning a 14-7 decision over the highly-touted Purples.

Another fumble late in the quarter led to Red Bank's third score. Jim Johnson smothered the ball at the 22. Twwo plays later, Baggett bagged it across from the six.

Central put its first points on the boards moments later when with 11:29 to play in the half Andy Wilson took the ball over from the four following a 37-yard pass from Long to Harris.

Red Bank marched right, back, however, with Baggett hitting Mark Atchley on a 27-yard pass play for six points with 8:08 to go. The play culminated a 67-yard drive. The extra point try failed and the Lions had a 23-6 lead at intermistion. lead at intermission.

Baggett made it 36 early, though, breaking down the sidelines behind good blocking and a good head fake which enabled him to elude two players for a 55-yard score. A pass to Reachard for the two points gave Red Bank its 36th and final point.

Central fought back, but it was too late. Over the final 15 minutes, Long hit on 11 of 16 passes for 116 yards. Twice he hit receivers for touchdowns, Central, with scrambling quarterback Randy Harris switching to flanker and junor Robert Long, who had nev-er played varsity football until last week taking over the field general chores, rallied to score three touchdowns in the final 13 minutes of play, but time ran out on the enthusias-tic Pounders.

"He was definitely the differ-ence in the game. If it hadn't been for that long touchdown run of his in the third quarter, we would have caught them. He's a great ball player," lauded Central mentor Tommy Run-yon, who only last year was an assistant to Cofer at Red Bank.

"If he isn't All-State, I don't know who is." Cofer said as he walked briskly toward a bus awaiting to take the Lions back to Red Bank. "I think we kind of got careless there when we got so far alead and Lalande." got careless there when we got so far ahead, and I played 25-30 boys, some of them prematurely I think," he reflected.

Central's Long Gains Spotlight

By WALT HOWELL

Tommy Runyon's Central Purple Pounders are 2-3-1 on the season. Losses have come at the hands of Bradley County, Brainerd and Red Bank and Tyner got credit for a scoreless tie.

The Pounders opened their season impressively, clobbering Kirkman, 26-0. But then, things started tapering off. Central was shut out 14-0 at Bradley. It clipped Hixson 6-0, and then managed only eight points in its next two games.

But because of a lanky junior named Robert Long, Coach Runyon undoubtedly would like to begin the season all over again.

Runyon had four quarterbacks in his stable at the outset, and 6-2, 150-pound Robert Long's chances of playing football appeared remote, to say the least.

Little Randy Harris had had a tremendous year in 1970 and the quarterbacking c h o r e s already were under lock and key, for all practical purtoses.

But it was in the Brainerd game that Runyon realized he had to pick that lock.

"Robert was always sorta in the background," Runyon said. "We knew he was a good athlete because he was a good baseball pitcher and probably the best sophomore on the varsity basketball team.

"We weren't moving the ball aginst Brainerd, so I didn't see any reason not to put him in there and give him a try. We certainly didn't have anything to lose."

The result: Long moved the Pounders up the field twice, and although both drives stalled deep in Brainerd territory, he completed three of five passes and Runyon started doing some serious thinking.

The Result: While Red Bank's senior sensation Tom Baggett was completing 9 of 15 passes for 151 yards last Friday night junior Robert Long was completing 16 of 28 passes for 187 yards and two touchdowns.

"It was amazing," Runyon said Wednesday, "Imagine this kid who hasn't played football in over a year going in there on short notice against a team like Red Bank and doing a job like that.

"And what was even more amazing was the poise he had under pressure. He stood back there and set up and threw the ball with authority. And we called very few plays for him."

Whatever happened to Randy Harris? He was on the receiving end of a 12-yard touchdown pass from Long and he ran four yards for another Pounder score.

"Randy always wanted to be a receiver and a running back anyway," Runyon admits. "He just always seemed to end up at quarterback." The Pounders finished with 28 points against unbeaten, ninth-ranked Red Bank Friday night, 12 points more than they had amassed in the last four games combined.

ROBERT LONG

The Result: "This is the move that is going to make us a better football team," Runyon says. "Nobody has been able to run at us. We've been strong in the defensive line and at linebacking.

"Now we can throw."
The move completely surprised Red Bank's Frank Cofer. "We had worked all week on defending Harris," Coler said. "He throws high passes and we didn't think we'd have to pressure him too much. But that new kid put some zip on that ball and the only way to defend that is to pressure him."

The 12 teams in the play-offs have combined records of 116 wins, three losses and one Brainerd will be playing a tough team in Nashville Overton when the Rebels go to the Metro Bowl Saturday night. Nashville Overton is quick, having only one "big" player, that being a tackle.

"They come off the ball quicker than any team Pve seen this year and they've got some very good backs. It's mostly a senior ball club," said Pete Potter Monday affernoon after reviewing films of Overton.

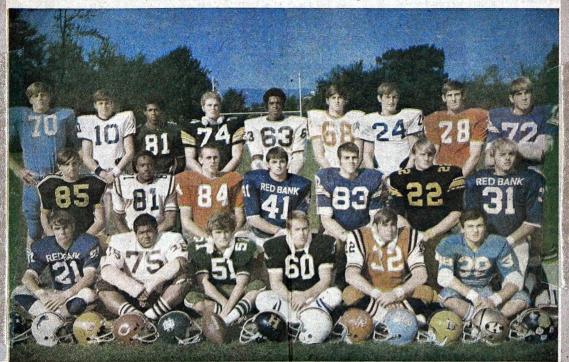

The Nashville team uses a six-man defensive line with two men playing head on the offensive guards and two linebackers stacked behind the guards. The tackles play out wide, close to the outside shoulder of the offensive end and the ends are outside the tackles. Overton uses three basic offensive forma-tions: an unbalanced line with a wide receiver; a balanced line with a T-formation backfield, and an unbalanced line with the Power-I to either side.

The Overton squad is a lot like City High, using traps, counters and quickies. But the passing attack is better and will keep a defense honest, according to

So you think!

That ugly word to a lot of county dwellars that's threatening to take Tyner into Chattanooga may also visit a lot of territory south of Central, according to Farr, and annexation may carry six of the underclassmen on his team to other schools.

And that's not all of the excedrin headache that Farr is suffering with. "Kids just don't care today. Mr. (Hobart) Millsaps (Central principal) calls it the new day for education. You know, a change in teaching and also in the kids," he remarked emphatically,

"I don't know, I just really don't know," said Farr. "Mr. Millsaps says that you have to adjust and I haven't made that adjustment.

Anyone that has wrestled for Farr or been around him very long knows that the superlative coach and official strives for perfection and requests even demands . . . perfection from his team. "Yes, I am a perfectionist. Things have to be done my way and they have to be done right. I'm the kind of coach that will push a boy and push him hard. A kid has to expect that when he wrestles for me."

But kids today, some kids, would rather drive their cars and chase after girls than make the sacrafices to be an athlete. "It's getting where today, it's hard to find a kid that really enjoys playing football or wrestling or any other sport . . . it's more of a chore."

3rd Annual Invitational Slated at Central High

11 Teams Ready for Two-Day Meet; Irish Have Two Defending Champs

Only three juniors were winners in the Central Invitational Wrestling tournament last year and all three will be back to defend their titles when the meet gets underway tonight at 7:00 at Central.

Notre Dame has two of the defending champions three-time state titlist Martin Francis and 155-pound David Held. The only other returning champ is Tyner's heavyweight Donnie Wiggins. Tyner won the team title last year and will also be on hand for the two-day tourney along with East Ridge, City, Notre Dame, Hixson, Central, Brai-nerd, Cleveland, Red Bank Walker County High of Jasper and Butler High of Huntsville.

Central coach John Farr is director of the tournament and is expecting a good tournament for the third annual event. Bill Bodd will serve in an assistant director's capacity.

The tournament is set to re sume Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock to battle it in the championship semifinals and consolations before returning at 7:30 for the consolation and championship semifinals

Price of admission for the tournament's first two sessions is 75 cents for students and $1 for adults. However, prices for the finals will be $1 for students and $1.50 for adults.

Referees for the tournament will be Bill Yeager, Bill Hodges, Pat Williams, Paul Smith, George Farr and Buddy Martin.

Once-Beaten Pioneers To Battle Notre Dame

McMinn Central at Brainerd, Tyner Scheduled to Meet Central

East Ridge lost to the Irish Saturday night. That is, Father Ryan's Purple Irish of Nashville and tonight the once-beaten Pioneer wrestlers battle with the Irish again but this time it's Notre Dame style. East Ridge suffered its first mat loss of the season Saturday night to the powerful Nashville squad, the defending state champion, and the Pioneers will probably have their hands full with Dale Chrisman's crew tonight at 7:30 at East Ridge.

The two were cast in the sec-ond-place finishers role, each team finishing with the same number of points behind Father Ryan.

In other matches Monday, Ringgold wrestles at McCallie at 3:30 against the Blue Tornado B team, Brainerd entertains McMinn Central at 7:30, Tyner visits Central at 7:30 and Lakeview plays host to Calhoun in another 7:30 contest.

Central's Robert Long played hit-me-if-you- can Thursday night with top-seeded City in the District 3 high school basetournament at Engel Stadium.

And the Dynamos never did. Long, pitching brilliantly all the way, hurled his second no-hitter in nine days in leading the Pounders to a 4-0 shocker over the heavily favored Dymove into the semifinals. The teams can breath easier since double elimination begins with the semis. The two meet Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Long, who allowed only one baserunner in his first no-hitter, gave the top-seeded Dynamos only five runners. Only two of them reached second base.

"I didn't know about it (the no-hitter) until the fourth inno-inter) until the fourth in-ning," said an elated Long while receiving endless con-gratulations from his team-mates and fans. Even when he found out about the possibilities, Long was Mr. Cool on the mound.

on the mound.

"I sorta got tired once," he said, "but the more I pitched and the closer I got to the no-hilter the stronger I got."

He set the Dynamos, 15-3, down in order in the fourth and fifth innings. He walked Mike Gist with one out in the sixth, but got Rick Wilhoite to pop out to third and he struck cut touch Rox Leffax.

In the seventh, Long quickly struck out Ken McGee and gut Roy Anderson to ground out to short. He walked Steve Flanagan but mound opponent Gary Rundle popped to second to end the thriller. "The only thing I did out there," said Central coach Paul Barnett, "was pray a lot. Robert pitched a tremendous game."

Baylor 11, Central 2

From start to finish a wild, loud group of Baylor School students drilled Central with jabs and their own Raiders with cheers and when the dust had cleared Baylor was in the winners finals having sacked the Pounders, 11-2

Baylor scored three times in the top of the first on only one hit and the tempo was set. Two errors by third baseman Mark two-spot in the last of the inning, but Bobby Edmondson settled down to allow only five hits the rest of the night and take the win.

Tim Pendergrass, Bill Mead-aws, Rusty McMahon and Tim Moore reaped two hits each for Baylor, Edmondson hit the ball hard and far on three occa-sions but only one went for a safety - a three-base clout to the left field wall in the sixth inning. Edmondson had two RBI's.

Another long shot of the night belonged to Central's Jay Garrett. Garrett chased home a run in the first inning when he blasted a triple into the center field flower box at Engel Stadium, Central's Robert Long also had a triple - a triple that could well have been a homer - but was picked off by Edmondson on the next pitch. Central went with Ronnie Thompson as their starting pitcher after there had been much speculation that Long, winner of the Pounders first two tourney games and the man who eliminated top seeded City High with a no-hit performance would go.

Central Clouts Baylor, Enters District Finals

By LARRY FLEMING Central, chased out of Engel Stadium by Baylor Monday night, returned the favor Wednesday. But this time, the Pounders ran Baylor out of the District 3 High School Baseball tournament as well, winning with ease, 9-1.

That sets up the showdown tonight between Central and East Ridge, undefeated in the tourney. East Ridge goes into the finals with an 11-5 record while Central leveled off at 9-9. An East Ridge victory would give it the 1972 district championship, but a Central win would force a second game which would be played Friday night at 7:30.

game which would be played.

It should be a slam-bang affair when Central's Robert Long, who has a string of 2s scoreless innings going for him, and East Ridge's Mark Howard lock horns. Both have recorded no-hitters this year with Long's coming in the tourney against City.

Central pulled an ace from a stacked deck Wednesday against the Red Raiders. Sophomore Brian Smith, who had not figured in a decision all year, came on to pitch seven strong innings and wind up with a sparkling threebitter.

Smith struck out eight batters and walked only one. He gave up the only run in the second and two of the hits came in the same frame. Only three Baylor batters reached base after that, one on an error in the fourth, a walk in the fifth and Mike Shuford's second hit in the seventh.

Meanwhile, the Pounders were pounding two Baylor pitchers for 13 hits. Was a complete turnabouthe Monday gar. Central committee and got waxed, 1 First basems never looked back. Mike Gilley started with a triple and scored on David Reno's single to left. Reno moved up on Garrett's first hit and they both scored on Baylor's errors.

Central, with a strong cheering section of its own to attle Baylor's "Roudy Raiders," took the suspense out the game with a four-run third inning. Garrett, Thorn-hill, Williams and catcher David Stancil all have run-producing hits in the uprising.

After two were out in the fifth, Williams singled to center and Stancil reached on an error. They moved up a base on a passed ball and raced home on Buddy Nethery's line double down the third base line.

Baylor's lone tally came in the second. Tim Moore singled to left, went to third on Shuford's double to right. More scored when Standi tried to pick him off third, but the throw sailed into left field.

THE ARMS AND BATS OF CENTRAL—Central's Pounders, with only a 9-9 record on the year, have swept into the District 3 finals against East Ridge with some timely pitching and tough hitting. scoring. East Ridge had never really threatened until the sixth. In the second, Dale Goodwin doubled and reached third on an infield out, but was stranded when David Holbrook and Ken Hudgins both grounded out.

Central had two runners on base in the third, but Howard got out of the jam when Mark Thornhill hit into a force out.

But in the sixth, the Pioneers went for blood. Howard grounded out to third to start the inning. Doug Parham beat out a hit to short and John Moore walked. Long then fanned David Rogers, but he came right back to issue a pass to Goodwin. That's when Garner greeted Long's fastball and sent it into left field, scoring Parham and Moore on the play.

In two previous trips to the plate, Garner had struck out in the second and grounded out to third in the fourth.

McEwen was doused with champagne after the victory and all the Pioneers sipped on orange drinks, the school color.

Howard, who defeated Rhea County and Kirkman in his other starts, allowed only 10 hits in the three games. After the shaky third, the East Ridge senior made things tough on the Pounders. He fanned four in a with a win in the 120 high hurdles and the Pioneers followed suit by taking both the 440 and 2-mile relays. Then, after Arnold's victory, the Pioneers of coach Mickey Haddock, ran roughshod over their competition by swinning seven straight events. The triumph gives East Ridge a 5-0 HCL record while Tyner moved into second place with a 3-1 mark. The Pioneers meet Hixson in the season's final meet next week for the title. Tyner, the defending HCL champion, rolled past Soddy Daisy, 81-46, and Hixson swamped Red Bank, 93-35, in other action on a cold, windy night for track.

Perhaps one of East Ridge's top performances came in the 890 where David Holbrook, who also plays baseball, rarely ever practices for his time to the baseball club. "There's no telling what could do it hust worked at it," said Haddock. Other individual winners for Other individual winners for the Pioneers Tuesday night were Walter Lacey in the mile (442.9). Greg Houston in the 440 (58.7), Bill Powell in the 440 (58.7), Bill Powell in the 150 (23.4) and Ricky Morrison in the 150 low hurdles (21.7). Mike Hooker of Tyner was a double winner for the Rams, taking the 100 in 10.4 and the 220 in 23.2, two-tenths of a second off his existing HCL record.

Mitchell Gravitt, the Hixson standout who has signed a football scholarship with Tenmessee, won the 100 in 10.6 and the 220 in 23.2. The Wildcats' Richard Watkins took the 120 highs in 17.5 and the 180 lows

ATLANTA, Ga - It was hard to look at Army faces immediately after the 16-13 upset of Georgia Tech Saturday afternoon and tell what had happen-

Some were laughing as you would expect, and some of the biggest burliest athletes you'll ever see were crying. Actually crying. All emotions and inhibitions were released once in the dressing room, though. There was more contact in the showers than there had been on the field.

Jim Barclay was the man of the hour, with his three field goals, the last one for 40 yards that broke a tie and gave Army victory for the first time in 11 games. The shy sophomore from Chattanooga must have

"They said it would be 34-3," said Coach Tom Cahill. "I read it right here in the Atlanta papers and I read it to the play-ers. You fellas with the press don't realize what an impact you can have on a team. I still believe the worse time to play us is when we've had our pride hurt, and we were thoroughly embarrased by Stanford last week."

Cahill singled out defense cornerback Matt Wotell for special praise. "He did a great job on the option and cut off (Brent) Cunningham's wide stuff. That probably was the key to the game. This should get us emotionally fit to play the big boys, and we've got plenty of them coming."

Steve Horten to Represent City at National JA Seminar

Steve Horten, a three-year member of Chat'anoora Achievement, has been selected to participate in the fifth annual National Junior Achievement-Reader's Digest Seminar. He is the first Chattanoogan ever selected for this honor.

The seminar will take place Nov. 5-8, in Williamsburg, Va. Horten is one of only 20 Achiev-ers from throughout the United States selected for the seminar. Selection is based on participa-tion and accomplishments in Junior Achievement on both lo-cal and national levels, as well as participation in school and other activities. Participants are selected by National Junior Achievement in conjunction with representatives of Reader's Di-

The purpose of the seminar is to provide an opportunity for vice president, and president young people to exchange ideas three different companies. and beliefs with other outstanding achievers from throughout the country, and to learn more about Jurior Achievement so they may serve as effective spokesmen for Junior Achievement throughout the country.

Through open dialogue and informal meetings, the partici-pents are able to define and clarify their ideas in preparation for speaking engagements on ehalf of Junior Achievement.

During the coming year, these young people will speak before thousands of men and women in business and civic groups, voic- ment management conferences, ing their candid opinions about business and its relation to today's youth.

pletions, sending tailback Ed Hines through the middle just enough to keep the defense honest. Army went all the way to the Tech 3 before a third-down pass fell complete and Barclay was called on to make it 6-0.

For the third straight time, Tech's offense, guided by quarterback Jack O'Neill, was completely frustrated by the Black Knight defense and forced to kick from its own 27. Defensive back Matt Wotell, the second biggest cog in the upset behind Barclay. broke through to block Bob Jobson's punt. Grover Daily picked it up and went to the three before being tripped. Ray Ritacco scored over left guard on the first play. Barclay made it 13-0, and Atlanta's picturesque skyline started to tremble.

The Engineers, with Rob Healy doing most of the work, finally started moving and got a first down at the Army 28 early in the second quarter. Cunningham, who has been the hero so many times, fumbled a second time on a fourth-and-one at the 19.

McAshan made his pearance on the next series, however, and quickly put Tech on the board with an eight-yard touchdown pass to Mike Oven. Healy chipped in with a 15-yard run on the drive. Bobby Thigpen's conversion made it 13-7.

Ken Bonifay got Tech field goal with six seconds left in the half, cutting the margin to three. But Tech had a third and goal at the one before an offsides penalty moved it back to the six and forced the kick

Tech was completely stymied by Army's defense and its own mistakes through much of the third period, but finally got a drive going from its own 15 that probably should have netted a winning and goal from the four when (higgen kirk) the final quarter state of the fi touchdown. Tech had a first the final quarter started, but a tech-PG Bonifay 23 Tom Lang fumbled a pitchout gle from the press corps. "I just decided to go out for the team last spring," he said. "I thought I could kick for them.

I don't guess anybody even knew I played football."

The 5-10, 212-pound Barclay got his chance only because sophomore kicker Dave Hohnstine is injured. In two games thus far, he has accounted for 12 of Army's 19 points.

"I did kick in high school," said Jim, who played for E. B. (Red) Etter at Central. "I wasn't very good, though, until Bobby Etter started working with me my senior year. He got me to tying my shoes, which I had never done, and Coach Etter bought me a square-toed shoe. That's when I began to improve."

"Barclay said he had worked for no gain and McAshan tried to complete a pass to someone in the end zone seats on third down.

Bonifay's ensuing field goal deadlocked it, however. Tech's defense dug its own grave late in the game and Barclay buried the Engineers. On a second and six from the Tech 44, the Engineer defense was called for unsportsmanlike conduct vocally attempting to confuse Army quarterback's the signals. The 15 yards moved it to Tech's 29. Three plays moved it to the 23 and Barclay was brought on for his clincher.

Tech tried to come back, but a fourth down McAshan pass to Oven fell one yard short of a first down at the Army 43. Tech got still another chance on a short Army punt with 46 seconds left, but McAshan's pass was picked off in the end zone by

He Will Sell You a Ride on Air

By CHARLES PENNINGTON

For a Cadillac you never have to apologize.

It's kind of like the words in "Love Story" — you never have to say you're sorry."

That's what Patrick White Kelly says, and he should know, being this city's new Cadillac dealer.

"Cadillac is an example of what American production can do — it's a quality car, the best, dollar for dollar, you can get on the American market," Pat says.

"Not only will it bring you

"Not only will it bring you there and take you back, it will do it in style and comfort," he says.

Probably the secret of Cadillac's smooth ride is its long wheel base, Pat says. "Extended over that great length you just don't get the bumps you'd get in a car of average length — and coupled with the tires and suspension system you ride like on air."

system you ride like on air."
Cadillac also provides what is probably the world's largest, most powerful engine for motor cars — a 500 cubic inch plant that moves the elegant car at great speed. Others may move quicker in shorter space but on the freeway stretches you'd better move over for the big Cadillac. But its speed and power is not something that Cadillac tries to sell. Its appeal is in its at you and comfort.

And it's not a car you have

And it's not a cer you have to go out and sell, really. It se'ls itself. In this country it enjoys the prestige of the Rolls-Royce in Britain, and while it may not have the hand-finished super luxury of the Grey Chost, it is bigger, faster and roomier.

Patrick White Kelly matches up with the cars he sells. He is young, handsome, impeccably dressed and assurred. He looks like a man you'd like to buy a car from even a used one.

Pat was born in Bainbridge, Ga., on Jan. 4, 1986, the only child of G. A. and Agnes White Kelly. His father for many years was in charge of maintenance and installation for Western Union, in Atlanta, Chattanooga and Knoxville.

Pat spent most of his teenage years in Chattanooga. He went to Highland Park, Anna B. Lacy School, and to Brainerd Junior High School. He went to Central High School where he was graduated in 1933. He describes himself as "an average student" but he knew he was going on to college as a matter of course.

In junior high school he got interested in music and learned to "diddle around on the guitar," but he didn't pursue it further.

He did pursue it far enough to marry a girl, Betty Sue Ayers, On Jan. 19, 1963. He met her in Atlanta, where they both worked for IBM and he discovered she also played the guitar. A history major at Vanderbilt, Sue had joined IBM as a systems analyst. Pat was selling computers. Whether it was their mutual interest in guitar playing or something else, they decided they liked one another well enough to get married.

They live at 729 Old Dallas Rd. and have two children, Susan, 6, a student at Bright School, and Timothy, 4.

Before he met Sue, however, Pat finished Georgia Tech and joined Westinghouse because engineers were in demand at the time. Since his parents were in Knoxville and he had no real ties to Chattanooga at the time he went with that company in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Then the Army started breathing down his neck, and because he had been a member of the ROTC at Tech, he went in as a lleutenant. He went into the Corps of Engineers because of his education as an engineer at Tech.

Pat was sent to Panama well fell in love with the place. It appealed to him, but as much as he liked Panama he resisted an appeal to remilist in the Army and took a job offer with IBM in Atlanta. He went to school there for IBM and later was sent to New York City for additional training.

In school he learned the complicated computer "language" which apparently is the only way you can converse with computers. He studied computer programming at Columbia University in New York and learned to talk back to the frightening machines.

Pat says it's all a matter of sitting down and learning it — that it's much like working a cross-word puzzle. It's problem solving, he says, and once you've solved it that's all there is to it."

Pat feels that engineering education is a great background for almost anything you end up doing. "It offers great discipline and you have to think and work like hell." He says that he learned that "if you really want something you have to work to get to."

Pat did manage to take time at Tech for a little relaxation. He joined Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, and that association meant much to him.

In the meantime Pat had got married to Sue, who was an only child like him. "Sue got pregnant, and with a baby, on the way she quit her job. Mr. Ayers wanted me to join him in his automobile agency, which at that time included both C ad ill acs and Oldsmobiles. I did, and I found it a much more interesting job than I had thought it would be.

"I got acquainted with people for the first time and discovered I liked that. I worked in the service and parts departments and got to know a lot of people. I found it both interesting and challenging.

"I had thought that working with IBM, selling computers and all other kinds of business machines, I knew all about business. Well, I learned that wasn't true. I learned there's a lot more to it than you think."

"When we were selling both oldsmobiles and Cadillacs, were selling about 50-50. When Mr. Ayers died it was dregone conclusion that Oldsmobile and Cadillac would separate. Not many people are able to hold on to two franchises like that.

"I chose to retain the top American car. And it became, evident that since we were separating I would have to build new facilities. I decired to go to the Golden Gatewa "I think the time was just.

"I think the time was just right, and that we made our move just at the right time."

Pat says that his salest training in selling IBM computers and other busines machines "really got to me. He said he learned that "you have to sit down and learn it. It requires a lot of analysis."

He went to Columbia, S.C., with IBM before returning to Chattanooga to join Ayers in the car business. That was where he really got acquainted with computers.

Pat is a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Chattanooga Golf and Country Club, the Mountain City Club, and Manker Patten Tennis Center.

Sue is "an excellent tennis player." Pat says, and it is likely that he is, too, although he is too modest to say so. He doesn't even list tennis among his hobbies, which are skin diving, squash a nd handball. He says he used to hunt and fish, but has given up those sports.

Pat was general manager, vice president and then president of Ayers Motor Co., before he opened Kelly Motor Co. in the Gateway.

Mrs. Robert A. Elmore doesn't have to tell you she has a zest for life. It comes through in every word of her conversation, even when that conversation is conducted in whispers because of laryn-

And last week larvngitis posed to Bettye Elmore a posed to Bettye Elmore a threat that was not to be sneezed at. She was in the middle of rehearsals for her role of leading lady in the Little Theater play, "Best of Friends," scheduled to open this Friday night.

"I love every second of it," she said. "Sometimes I think 'What if I had to work this hard at home!' But the truth is I couldn't do it if my family -Bob and the girls - didn't pitch in and help with the housekeeping and all. They're wonderful."

She credits the Little Theater with releasing her from her natural shyness. "I always wanted to act. But I thought that was something other people did. Then I went ahead and read for a part in a play. Yes, it took nerve, A lot of it. But it's been great for me."

Apparently, Little Theater goers have found it great for them, too. In 1971 she won the audience poll's Best Actress Award for her performance as leading lady in "Never Too Late."

But the Little Theater hasn't been Betty Elmore's only iron in the fire.

At Brainerd Presbyterian Church she sings in the choir and teaches a Sunday School class of first graders. They keep her on her toes with their questions — which are not always theological. One Sunday morning, when she showed up with her light brown hair frosted, a percep-tive pupil piped up, "Dyed tive pupil piped up, "Dyed your hair, didn't you?"

She went through Hemlock Elementary, Eastside Junior High and Central High schools, worked for three years at the Provident Life and Accident Insurance Co. and, for seven years, as a secretary at American Thread Co. During her years at the Provident she met Mr. Elmore, then a coworker hers in the company's Accident Department. They were married in 1952.

Their children are Candace. nearly 13, a Brainerd Junior High student, and Cindy, nearly 9, who goes to Trinity Christian School.

Former local teen-age golf star Jimmy White, now a 29year-old Army veteran, has been named as the new teaching professional at the Eastgate Golf Center.

White, older brother of Chattanooga's PGA circuit pro Larry White, will assume his new duties April 3, general manager Ira Templeton announced.

At one time Jimmy dom-inated teen-age golf in Chattanooga. He won the City Junior Championship in both 1959 and 1960 and captured the Sandy Summers Teen-age crown at Signal Mountain in 1960. He also once was run-nerup to Ed Brantly in the Men's City Amateur cham-

He taught golf at the Eighth Army Golf and Country Club and also gave golf lessons at the Seoul Country Club. He won the Shriners' Tournament at Seoul last year and placed fourth in the Quan Ak Son Tournament, one of Korea's major professional golf meets.

Jimmy is a graduate of Central High School, where he was a member of the Pounder golf team, and attended the University of Chattanooga be-

West Point Cadet Barclay Here to Recruit for USMA

Gridiron Star Central Grad

By GEORGE W. BROWN

News-Free Press Staff Writer Being a West Point cadet "is one of the best ways to get an education and help your country," Chattanooga Jim Barclay, a star footballer at the academy said today.

Cadet Barclay, a former football player at Central High School, is in his second year at the United States Military Academy. He is here to recruit qualified young men to West Point, as well as relax on vacation for a few days from the strict regimen of cadet life.

His function in recruiting is to interest high school students in the academy. While a young man may express interest he still must gain entrance to the institution th r o u g h appointment, be a son of Congressional Medal of Honor winner, or be recommended by his high school ROTC program.

His recruiting activities fall

His recruiting activities fall under the auspices of the Cadet Public Relations Council, and part of his duties today took him to WDEF TV. where he was interviewed on the Morning Show. Each recruiting session lasts two days in which time the recruiter must make at least four appearances, he said.

The personable young Point man cited advantages in being a cadet at the USMA, saying "prestige has to go a long ways with it...if you want a military career this is the place you ought to go." He added that "you get so much individual attention," and pointed to the fact that the student-teacher ratio is about 15 or 20 to one.

Another attractive feature to which Cadet Barclay alluded is the fact that men are paid at a rate equal to one-half of a second lieutenant's pay while they are in the academy. Included in his tour here will be Lakeview and Ringgold High schools.

He said he is "interested in trying to find some football players." His efforts here are understandable in the light of the fact that he has contributed much to student life in this area

During the past season he was responsible for tie-breaking field goals that he kicked against Georgia Tech and Pittsburgh to carry the Black Knights to victories. The kick against Pitt came with about 30 seconds to go, he said.

He declared that the first

He declared that the first year at the adademy 'was really an experience..it's rough but it has a purpose." Following graduation he plans to become an armor officer and will take airborne training to qualify as a paratrooper.

Cadet Barclay is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Barclay, 4310 Butterfly Drive.

WEST POINT RECRUITER—Jim Barclay, former Central High School footballer, is here recruiting young men for entrance to the United States Military Academy, where he is a second-year man. Cadet Barclay is a field goal specialist on the West Point football team and last season pulled his team to victories over Georgia Tech and Pittsburgh. After the players and guests had cleaned roast beef-laden plates, coach S. E. Sullins presented the coaches' lead-ership award to Mike Fitzgerald and Joe Scruggs was named recipient of the Sportsmanship Award.

McGill, a junior shortstop, led the team with a .393 mark and received a plaque in recognition of this feat, also. He had 36 hits in 89 at bats.

The 1972 Mocs, who finished 16-11, set two individual rec-ords. The 36 hits by McGill broke the old mark of 34 set by Fitzgerald last season. Also, Fitzgerald cracked six triples, two more than Steve Gross had in 1971.

The top fielding average was compiled by first baseman Fitzgerald who made only three errors in 220 chances for a 986 mark.

Rodney Hannah had the best ERA among the pitchers. 2.75. He gave up 11 earned runs in 36 innings.
