Foreword

"The Champion" was chosen as the name of our annual because of a few very distinct characteristics of the word. In ancient times the Champion went forth from his castle to fight for the right and to represent those principles to which he had pledged his allegiance. So shall this annual strive to represent the best there is in this school. We have activities in our school that should be represented to the world. Go forth, O Champion! and may you help win greater laurels for our school.

The Class of '14

As Freshmen this class, though possessing the usual green appearance, was an exceptionally live group of students. They contributed three to the football team and two to the basketball team. Not only were they active in athletics, but they took part in other school activities. Twelve were in the play, "If I Were King"; three in "Richelieu," and several in "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Again, when Sophomores, three of the boys were on the football team and two on the basketball team. Also, the Central representative at the Knoxville oratorical contest was selected from this class. One of the most delightful features of the four years was the class picnic at Crawfish Springs.

When Juniors, they gave the first social event of the year by entertaining the Freshmen. Seven members of this class played on the football team and two on the basketball team. Later they presented the play, "The College Ball." In the spring of 1913 they had an outdoor production of "As You Like It." They introduced the custom of giving the Junior-Senior banquet in the Central Building.

This year the Seniors contributed seven to the football team and three to the basketball team. Three of the sponsors were Seniors. The Seniors, in short, are the banner class, and it can be said without exaggeration that the class of 1914 is one of the best Central has ever produced.

The Senior Play

Moliere's "Learned Women" has been selected as the Senior play this year. It was this comedy, "Les Femmes Savant," that the great French Shakespeare, with his troupe of strolling actors, gave with such success before the court of Louis of France, Moliere himself sustaining the part of Chrysale.

The student body of Central will be fortunate in seeing this comedy presented, for each role will be well played. The rehearsals are well under way, and each performer interprets his part with skill.

THE JUNIOR CLASS.

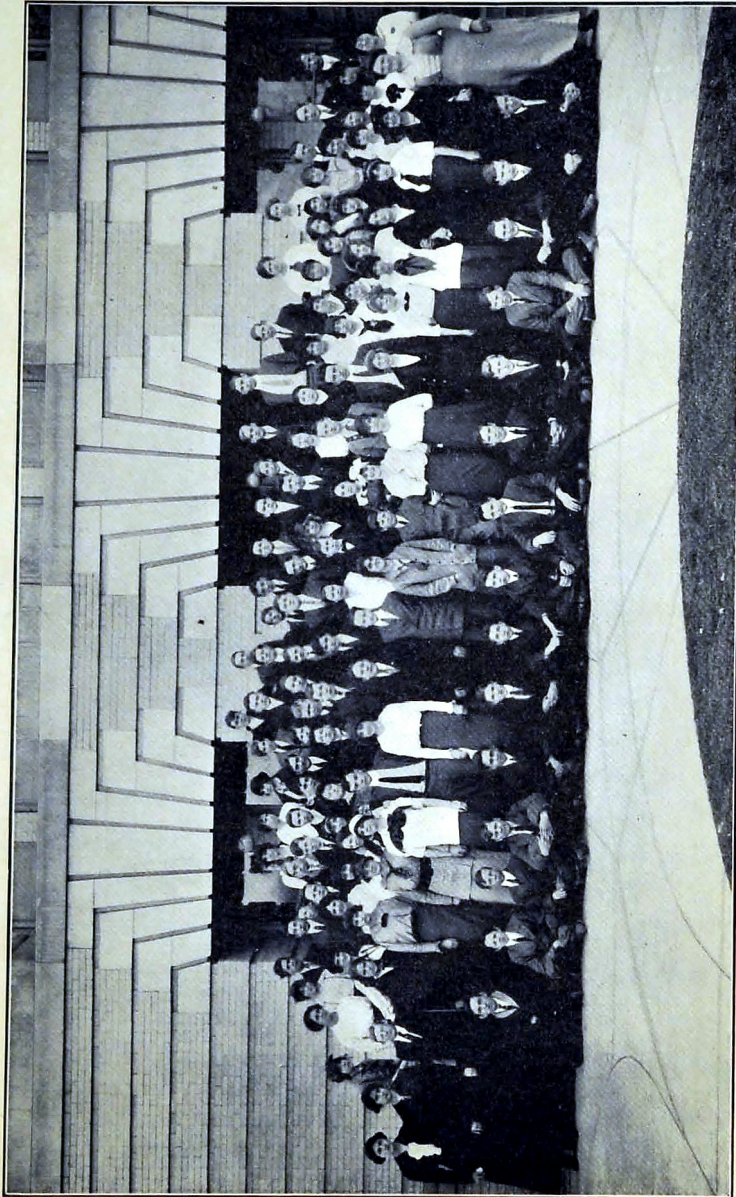

At the foot of historic Missionary Ridge is a beautiful school—Central High. Four classes claim this school for their own. The Junior class, like Abou Ben Adam, leads all the rest. It is a large class of boys and girls who are kept very busy with theatricals and banquets for the other classes.

The Juniors are very talented: they write poetry, plays, stories, etc. Some of the 1915 girls cook and serve luncheons, and her boys make furniture and build houses (for chickens). In fact, the class of '15 can turn her hand to almost anything. She has orators and speakers who bring fame to the school. A 1915 boy and girl "orated" and each won a medal. The faculty and lower classmen will be dissolved in tears when we leave (and we can't blame them), so some of us may consent to stay five years.

The Officers are:

Otis Beck	President
Buist McAllister	Vice President

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

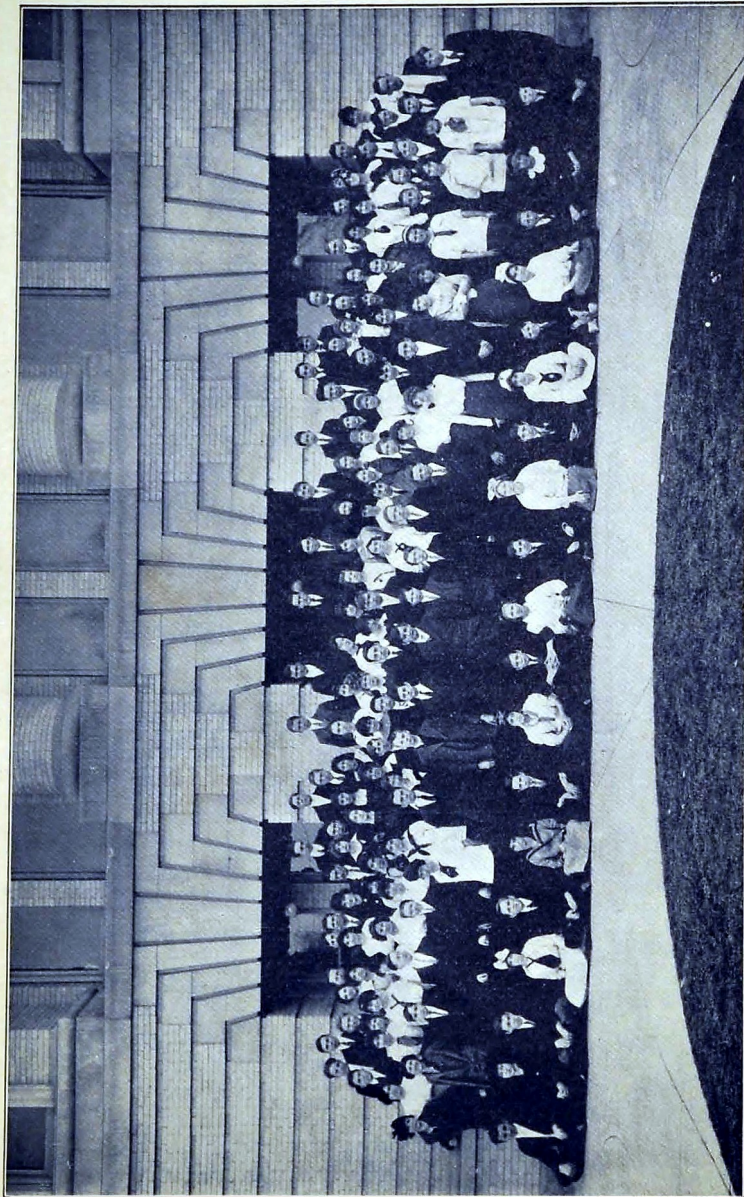

This Sophomore class was formed in 1912 and has been known as the paragon of classes since its beginning, at Central. As Freshman we outshone the other classes socially, intellectually, and in avoirdupoise. We have been staunch upholders of the Digest; we have held a high place in athletics, and are ever ready to help when called upon. With the exception of the Freshman class, it is the largest class in school, and is guaranteed both as to quality and quantity. We have authors, musicians, athletes and honor students.

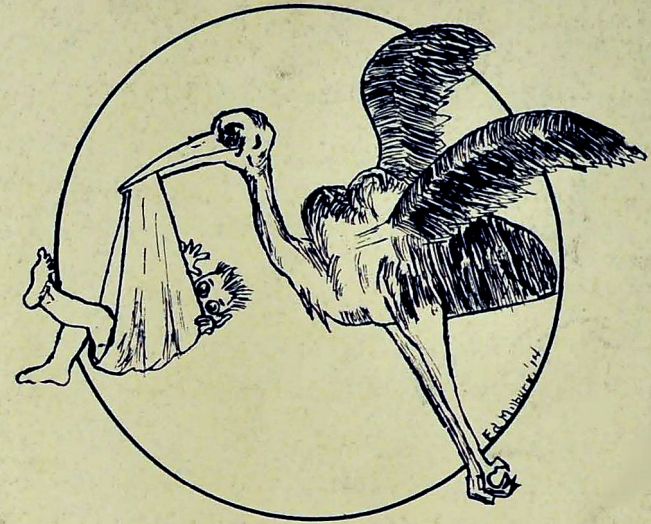

For nobility of character, wealth of intellect, unsurpassed beauty and grace, the class of '16 holds the palm. The class motto is: "Blow your own horn or it won't get blown."

The Officers are:

President	Geo. McIsaac
Vice President	Eskar Johnson
Secretary and Treasurer.....	Mildred Faidley

THE FRESHMAN CLASS.

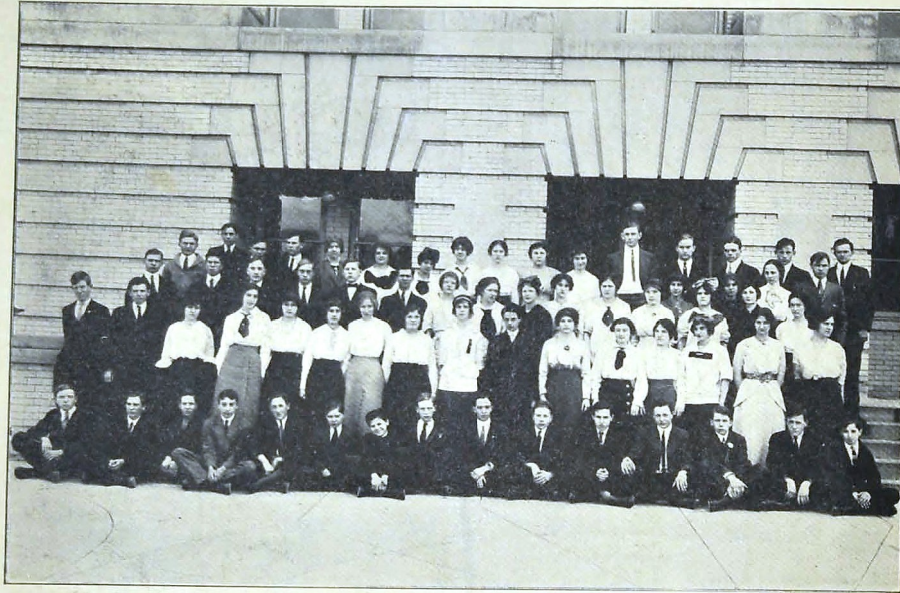

The Freshman Class

Surrounded by the walls and under the roof of a far-famed institution called Central High School there is a large body of students. This body is divided into groups, of which one is easily the most important. Which? The Freshman. Why? Because there could be no Sophomores, Juniors, or Seniors without there were first the Freshman class.

It has been the common custom to make the "Freshie" the butt of the many school jokes, provided there is no formidable front put on by them, but this class of '17 has placed such a barrier of accomplishments around them that the upper classmen are forced to entertain a profound respect for this year's Freshmen.

The J. K. S. Literary Society

The J. K. S. Literary Society, the "Live Wire of Central High," is as old as the school itself, having been organized in 1907. Since that time it has increased its influence at Central and its value to the school. It has always been the custom of the society to give at least two social functions every year. The members also hold an annual essay contest open to any student at Central, the winner of these contests being awarded with a handsome gold medal by the society. The society has boasted of only five members the past year, but it can be accounted as one of the most successful terms in its history.

Wellesley Girls' Society.

The Wellesley Girls' Literary was organized in 1912 and has for two years grown and progressed both intellectually and socially. Each year the society has two gala days—the annual party which is given at Central and the annual picnic. This year the social calendar has been red-lettered more than once, thanks to our energetic members.

We have cultivated several good orators and have done fine work along this particular line. Miss Schwartz has rendered the society valuable service in lecturing on her extensive travels in Europe. Mrs. Russell's enthusiasm has been unremitting and is greatly appreciated by the members. The Wellesley Society is no doubt one of Central's most lively and wide-awake societies.

The Robert E. Lee Literary Society

This society was organized in the fall of 1912. Up to that time it seemed that the interest in debating had practically ceased at Central High School. Through the able management of a few enthusiastic members the society has accomplished a great deal since its organization.

The work of the society is a phase of the regular school activities. Its purpose is to drill its members in the art of public speaking and debating. The meetings are held on alternate Fridays in the school building. Although young, this society has been a great factor in the development of young men as leaders in our school. Several of its members have entered oratorical contests and have won laurels for themselves and the society from which they received their training.

The Grady Society started this term with only three old members. These three opened the doors of the society to any male student, without qualification, for the first two meetings. Many students answered our call and filled the roll. The meetings have been full of life, and many well arranged programs have been enjoyed during the year. The discussion of current events has had a prominent place in all of the meetings. With the good start already made, the society expects to surpass any previous record.

Dixie Girls' Society.

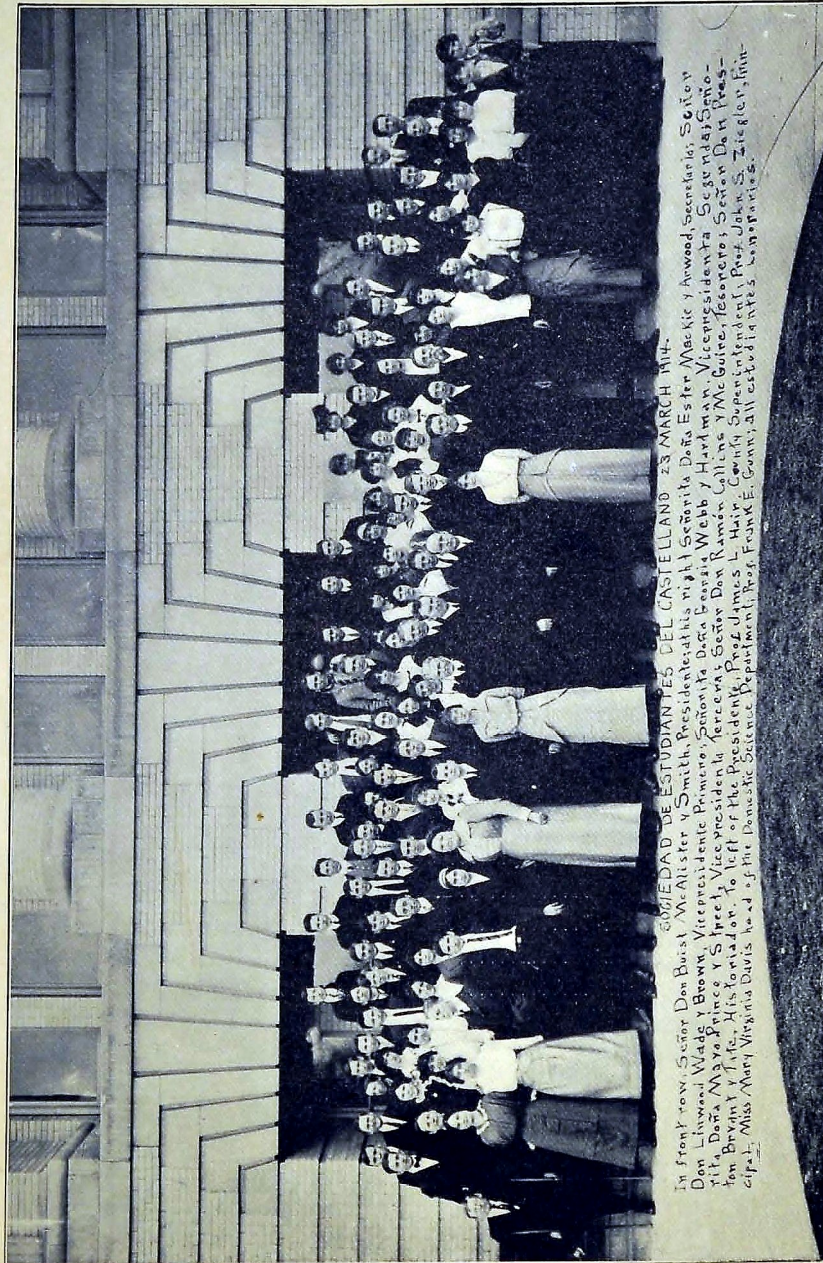

The Dixie Society has done much for its members this year. The programs have been a study of various authors, their lives and works.

The society aims to give the girls a taste of the social world as well as a literary training. The Dixie Girls gave a tea on February 24 for all the girls of Central and the faculty, which proved to be a very enjoyable affair.

The society hopes to give several more social affairs before the close of school.

SPANISH SOCIETY.

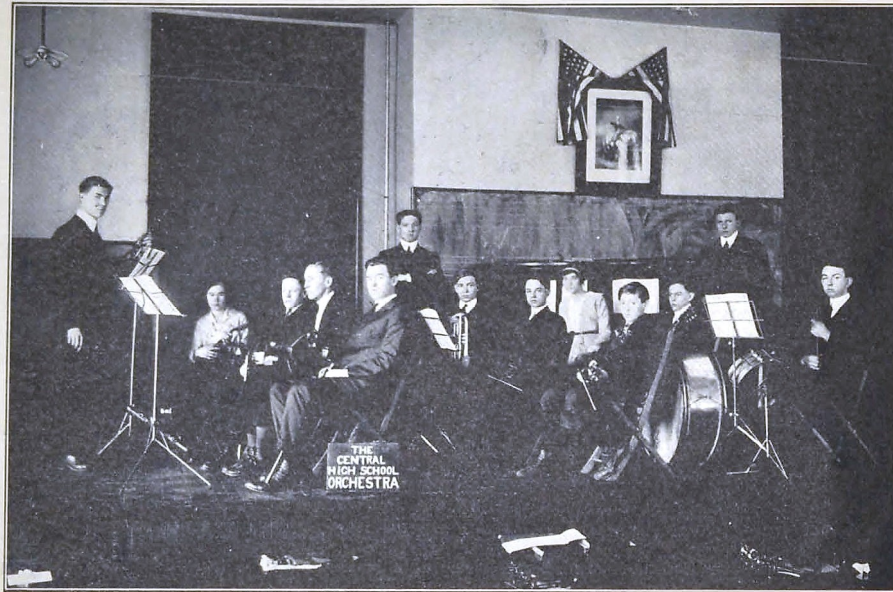

SOCIEDAD DE ESTUDIANTES DEL CASTELLANO

This Society, founded 10 January 1908, has enrolled to date five hundred and eight active members. Its motto, taken from the words of Admiral Cervera, is "El Cumplimiento del Deber," meaning "The Fulfilment of Duty."

The present officers are Presidente, Señor Don Buist McAlister y Smith; Vicepresidente Primero, Señor Don Linwood Wade y Brown; Vicepresidenta Segunda, Señora Doña Georgia Webb y Hartman; Vicepresidenta Tercera, Señora Doña Mayo Prince y Street; Secretaria, Señora Doña Ester Mackie y Arwood; Secretaria Correspondiente, Señora Doña Winona Blacker y Costigan; Tesorero, Señor Don Ramón Collins y McGuire; Historiador, Señor Don Preston Bryant y Tate.

On 19 December last the Sociedad entertained at a luncheon Hon. Edgar Rule Tarwater, who gave the school an interesting address on the Philippines. At the meeting in last January a resolution was passed referring to the visit in 1912 of Hon. William Gibbs McAdoo, an estudiante honorario of the Sociedad, and congratulating him on his brilliant success as Secretary of the Treasury and the admirable example set by him to the young people of the Nation, and relating to sending him a rosette of the colors of the Sociedad and an address of greeting and the decoration of his portrait with the national colors and the reading of extracts from his utterances and singing the Canción McAdoo. At the same meeting a resolution of congratulation and approval was passed in favor of Hon. Richmond Pearson Hobson, M. C., an estudiante honorario, and the meeting closed with the singing of the Canción McAdoo under the direction of Prof. Frank E. Gunn, also an estudiante honorario.

At the meeting of 27 February last Miss Mary Virginia Davis, head of the Domestic Science Department, was elected an estudiante honoraria. At the meeting of 31 March 1914 Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, fiancée of Secretary McAdoo, was elected an estudiante honoraria and requested to give her portrait to be put beside that of Secretary McAdoo in the Cuarto Español. At the same meeting Prof. Samuel H. Thompson, Superintendent of Public Instruction for Tennessee, was elected an estudiante honorario and requested to favor the Sociedad with his presence whenever practicable.

The Central High School Orchestra

The Central Orchestra had one of the most successful and delightful seasons of its history. It has rendered several programs throughout the city which have won fame for our school along this line.

The organization has rendered programs at the Girls' Preparatory School, Fourth District School, St. Elmo School, East Lake Grammar School, St. Elmo Baptist Church, Ridgedale Southern Methodist Church and several others.

THE DIGEST STAFF.

The Central Digest

This year the Central Digest entered on its fourth volume. The faculty chose, as is their custom, six members for the staff. The staff is as follows: Lee Ryerson, Editor-in-Chief; Ione Biggers, Associate Editor; A. J. Henderson and Lucy Milburn, Business Managers. The faculty members chosen were: Prof. J. B. Hyde and Mrs. L. M. Russell. Class representatives: Gordon Trewhitt, Senior; Clyde Mansfield, Junior; Marie Warwick, Sophomore; Lloyd Bacon, Freshman.

It was decided by the staff to publish six issues of the magazine. Every department had one issue, and financed their issue, excepting the last, which was financed by all. The policy of the editors was to have as many students contribute to the paper as possible. There have been approximately one hundred represented besides the staff.

Part of the success of the Digest this year is due to its having been printed on the school press, which reduced the cost of production and made it possible to have a large paper. The Digest is also indebted to the students and teachers who worked so diligently in the printing of the paper.

Central's Debators and Orators

Central has been ably represented in this branch of school endeavor by Misses Ione Biggers, Jessica Bible, Violet Myrick, Gertrude Henshaw and Mr. Clyde Mansfield. The first test of Central's strength was shown in the contest with the Girls' Preparatory School. The three girls who represented Central acquitted themselves with credit.

In the oratorical contest against the Hamilton County High Schools, Central easily won first place. She was represented in this contest by Miss Gertrude Henshaw and Mr. Clyde Mansfield.

The All City Football Eleven

(As selected by Chattanooga Times.)

Ends—Duncan and Boyd, Central.

Tackles—Parker and Vandercammen, Central

Guards—Wilbur, City High; Taylor, Baylor-Couts.

Half Backs—Cornelius, Central; Carter, Baylor-Couts.

Center—Hurt, City High.

Full Back—Revington, Central.

On the Chattanooga Times All-City Football Team Central had seven men out of a possible eleven. These men were picked on account of their experience, offensive and defensive strength, and for what they actually accomplished on the gridiron.

Boyd and Duncan were probably the best pair of ends ever on a prep. school team. Both of these men will be back next year, and we only hope that their work will be up to their standard of the season past.

The picking of the two tackles gave Mr. Foster very little trouble, Parker and Vandercammen having the call on their rivals without a doubt. "Club" Parker will be gone, but not forgotten, next year. "Vandy" will again attend Central, appearing in the roll of Captain of the 1914 team.

Bruce McIsaac won a clear title to the quarterback position. Graduation will take Bruce from the fold this year, but he says he'll be back every now and then to give his successor a few pointers on how to play quarterback.

Rusty Cornelius was the first pick for halfback. He was the best in the State at tackle smashes and his nerve was wonderful. He graduates this year and will probably go to Georgia Tech., where his college football career should be just as spectacular as was his four years of playing at Central.

George Revington was the most talked of football player in the city. Playing his first year, he was the greatest find of the season. "Horkie's" driving power is unexcelled. He is a junior and will be on tap next fall, after which, on account of his love for Central, he intends taking a post-graduate course.

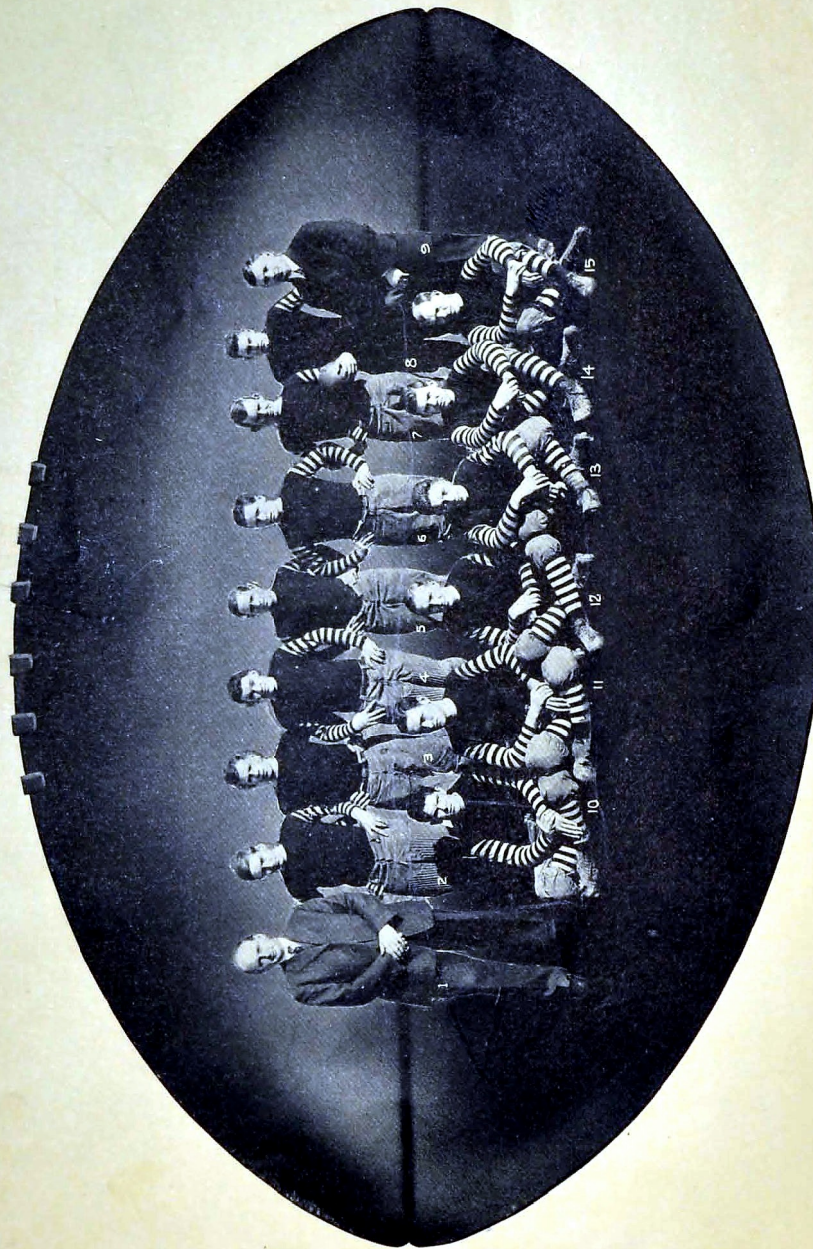

CAPT. BRUCE McISAAC

CAPT. HARPER CORNELIUS

COACH J. B. RIKE

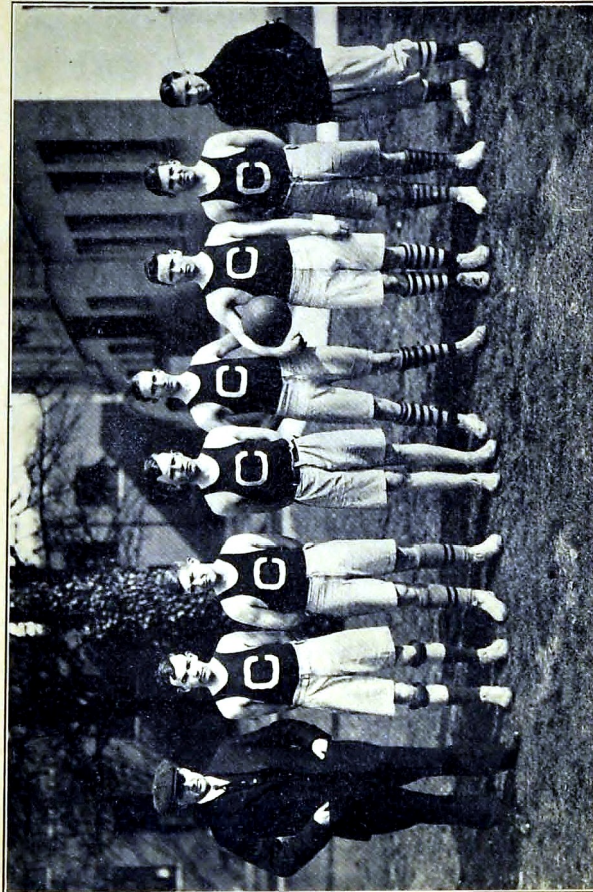

Central's Champion Football Team

Every student of Central High should feel proud of our team's record for the past season and of every individual who formed a cog in the football machine. Seven of them won positions on the All-City team and are mentioned in other columns. Page, our center, although only a first year man, showed his ability to play aggressive football. "Strong-arm" played rings all round his opponents, and not even once did he ever "ball-up" a signal. Central loses a very valuable man in age. Turney Crownover, also a new man, held down the position of left guard with great success. His hobby was "nailing his man" right in his tracks. Crownover is a Senior, and, although he will be gone, he will be remembered as the "plucky and very little guard." The position of right guard was held by Lander Allen, also a beginner at the gridiron sport. Allen never once showed a yellow streak and always held his side of the line like a stone wall. He has two more years at Central. Last but not least is Alfred McIsaac, our right half-back. Alf played a consistent and steady game throughout the season and won fame for himself by his fierce interference for his teammates. If Central in the future furnishes half as good teams as the champs of 1913 we may feel proud.

The Schedule of Games Played is as follows:

September 25	Central 44	vs.	Knox County	00
October 3	Central 00	vs.	Rhea County	00
October 24	Central 26	vs.	Baylor-Couts	00
November 7	Central 21	vs.	Rhea County	00
November 14	Central 41	vs.	Brandon	00
November 21	Central 26	vs.	City High	00
November 25	Central 45	vs.	Jasper	00
Total	Central 203		Opponents	000

THE BASKETBALL TEAM.

Central's Champion Basketball Team

When Central closed its basketball season of 1914, its team had never been defeated and was the undisputed champion of East Tennessee. The record made by our team was one that Central fans will never forget. It began the season by beating McCallie, and in turn defeated every member of the league.

To begin the season Coach Rike had only two regulars, and with a huge bunch of aspirants for the other three positions he made the best team ever put on the court by Central High. To relate all the features worthy of mention it would take a book, so we will only tell about our team. Cornelius, our forward and Captain, was the chief scorer, and was responsible for more than one victory. His work in the City High games was his best, and showed that Rusty was as good in pinches as otherwise. Harper will leave us this year, and we only hope that his successes are as big in the business world as those made in athletics. "Rusty's" running-mate was Charlie Thompson, and was worthy of his partner, securing nearly as many goals as Cornelius. Spider will be with us next year, and we are sure that his work at Central will not be inferior to his playing.

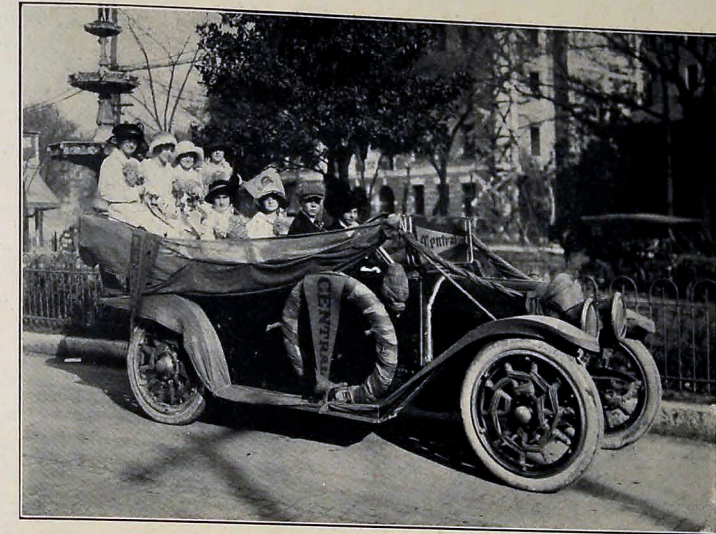

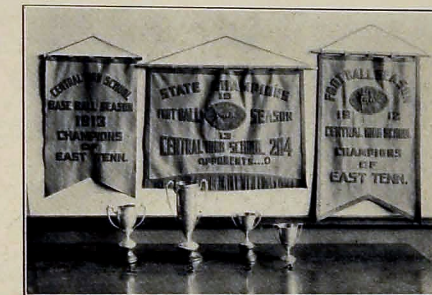

Page, Parker and Cornell are also worthy of much mention, and the space granted for basketball will not permit telling of all the credit due them. McIsaac, the same Bruce, was perhaps the best guard in the city, improving a hundred per cent in ability over last year's playing. He will leave us this year, and we are sure his athletic work at whatever college he enters will be worthy of much comment. Three members of this year's team will return, and for next year we anticipate still another championship.

Central's honors for the year 1913-1914 have been many. Her collection of loving cups and pennants is the envy of every Chattanooga preparatory school.

The "Lookout Loving Cup" (No. 2), offered to the city preparatory football champions, was won by our team. It is a large and beautiful cup, and has the names of the team engraved thereon. The "Billy Long Cup" (No. 1) is ours for this year, and we intend it to be ours for the next two years also. The "Wright Cup" (No. 3) was won by our champion basketball team. Oratorical Cup (No. 4), won by oratorical team 1912-13.

The wall banners were won by Central, one as State Champions in football, one as champions of East Tennessee in the same sport, and one as champions of East Tennessee in basketball.

Now, cheer up, all you mopes and pokes,
And listen to our "would-be" jokes;
Now all you grim-mouthed peevish ones,
Spread wide your faces at our puns.

We've dug 'em up and brushed 'em off,
What though they've long been buried.
Chestnuts? Dead ones? Not a bit!
Don't start growling till you're hit.

There's nothing in the world that's new—
It's the way they're told that makes 'em do.
Get out your hammer if you dare!
Laugh with us, at us; we don't care.

Place: Hades.
Time: 1914 A. D.

First Assistant Fiend: Your Majesty, here are two fellows who claim they have just come from Central High School, Chattanooga, Tenn.

Satan: Well, what of it?

First Assistant Fiend: Well, one says he has just finished chemistry under George Davis, and the other geometry under Mr. Rankin, and they claim they have had 'll enough.

Satan: They're right; make them as comfortable as possible.

FROM THE CLASS ROOM.

Prof. Hyde: "Marie Balcom, why are you not working on your problem?"

Marie: "I have been, sir; I've asked everybody in the room how they got it."

Otis B. (reading "As You Like It"): "Celia's father was a count—"

Mrs. Russell: "Bah! He was no count— Nor you, either, for that matter."

WHAT SHE WANTED.

They had been married but a few months, and they still loved each other devotedly. He was in the garden hoeing weeds. "Jimmy," she called at the top of her voice. "Jimmy" came to her quickly, for he knew that she was in imminent danger. He rushed up the two flights of stairs to the rescue and found her looking out of the window at a woman passing by. "Look," said Mrs. Rike, "that's the kind of dress I want you to get me."

The Junior class expect to offer a magnificent revival of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," presenting: Mr. Otis Beck as Little Eva; Mr. Henry Hobday as Uncle Tom, Legree, Marks and Eliza; Billy Powell as Topsy; Stanley Boyd as first bloodhound; Don Chaddiek as second bloodhound; Lygia Hudson, Ohio River; Lucy Milburn, Ice; Wm. Merriam, Slave Whip; Dean Farris, Moon; Virginia Stephens, Malarial Music.

Mrs. Carter: "Tell something more about Washington Irving."

Clara Allen: "Well, his mother was an Englishman."

Lucy Milburn: Mr. Rankin reminds me of a piano.

Jessica Bible: Why?

Lucy M.: He's so Grand and Upright.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

1. The faculty has decided to have Mattie Kountz as a permanent ornament to the Eighth period?
2. Mr. Setliffe's classes are cinches?
3. Miss Aull can speak a thousand words a minute?
4. Marie Balcom is a grind?
5. Louise Williams is writing a geometry text?
6. Georgia Webb wants a Central sweater? (Get busy, Bruce.)
7. Ed Milburn is a widower these days?
8. Lee Ryerson has a hair cut?

Mr. Ziegler and his asthmatic little machine chugged up to the gate at the City High-Central game. The gatekeeper shouted: "One dollar for that machine." Mr. Ziegler smiled and answered: "Sold."

WATCHING THE GAME.

Man (over 'phone): Hello, is this Miss Webb?

Georgia: Yes.

Man: Would you like to go to the basketball game tonight?

Georgia: Sure! Who is it?

OVERHEARD IN THE STUDY HALL: Puzzled Freshman: What is that rasping noise that's being made in front?

Senior: Oh, that's just Mr. Ziegler filing complaints. You'll soon get used to that.

Prof. Rankin: What's the matter, Milton? Can't you stand still?

Milton Hoff (trying to draw figure for his proposition): I am trying to find a soft place to stand.

Prof. Rankin: Try your head.

Ed Milburn: An ion is an electrocuted atom.

Miss Aull: Emma, have you an interrogation point at the end of that sentence?

Emma Guthrie: No, ma'am; I have a question mark.

A goat ate all our other jokes,
And then began to run;
"I cannot stop," he softly said;
"I am so full of fun."

Answers to Correspondents

This department was not originally contemplated by the Annual Board, but so many inquiries have been received from the faculty and student body that we have felt obliged to answer the anxious inquiries to save the necessity of personal letters. No cooking recipes will be printed, nor will questions involving a knowledge of law, literature, art, history, science or mathematics be answered. Religious questions will be thrown in the waste basket. Prompt and courteous treatment will be given concerning school politics, social usage, the heart and beauty hints.

Leafie Street: (1.) No, my dear; no one thinks your complexion artificial nor your hair of the drug store variety. (2.) You should apply to the Chattanooga Equal Suffrage League for membership.

Louise Pope: (1.) As far as we can determine Maurice is true to you. Don't seem to watch him so much, but keep a careful lookout just the same.

Edna Breeden: You are right; the Faculty does impose upon you. It doesn't pay to study too hard. Save your energy for social triumphs.

Zoe Brown: Ah, Zoe! you have propounded a question which has caused much dissension on the staff. The vote at present stands half and half. But though we can't agree as to whether it is corn starch you use or flour, we all agree that you must put it on with a trowel.

Ruth Murphy: In reference to your voice, we would say it is decidedly base.

Harper Cornelius: You seem to have every quality needed for a successful journalist. Your devotion to the study of English literature proves your aptitude along that line, beyond a doubt.

Mr. Hyde: Mr. Geo. K. Brown has no legal right to object to your continuous presence in front of his place of business. Personally, we think you are an ornament instead of a de-traction, but you know how queer some people are. Of course, you are popular at Central. Why shouldn't a youth with your winning ways and handsome face be popular? Yes, your classes are very interesting.

Mr. Rike: We know of no topic of conversation where it would be out of place for you to mention your hobby, "babies."

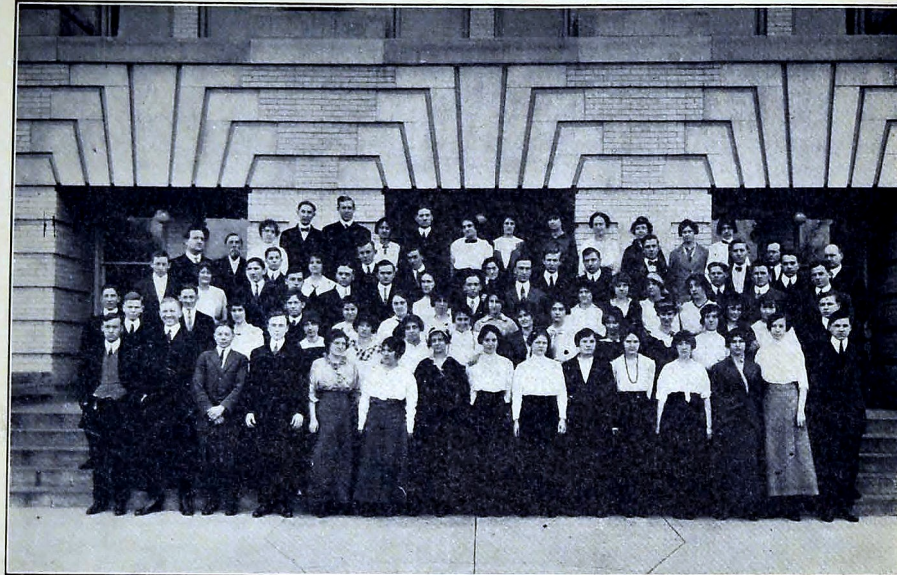

Fred Lawson: You need not fear; there are plenty of girls left to admire you since last year's Senior class is gone.

Virginia Stephens: Don't worry, Virginia; they are just jealous of the fact that you can give more versions of one story than any one in school. Pay no attention to them.

Jerry Stegall: Yes, your peculiar style of beauty requires that handsome pompadour.

Glenn Massey: In answer to your question, we would say that your terpsichorean and vocal talents are wasted at Central. Miss Neville or Billy Long might need you. You have the best wishes of the Staff.

Where?

Right in the neck, the neck, the neck,
 Right in the neck, the neck, the neck,
 Right in the neck!

There!

Central, Rah! Central, Rah!
 Rah! Rah! Central!

Hoop la hoop, hoop la hoop!
 C. H. S. is in the soup.
 S-O-U-P! S-O-U-P! Soup, soup, soup!

Ha, ha, ha! Bah, bah, bah!
 Baylor wants it Ma! Ma! Ma!

Tune: I Want to Be in Dixie.

We have a team, we have a team,
 We have a team at Central High School;
 And they all know how to play the game;
 They also know how to win the same.
 You ought to see, you ought to see,
 You ought to see our team play football.
 You can tell the world we're going to win,
 W-I-N! They know how to spell it;
 So we'll win; We're sure to win;
 In the game with City High

Tune: You're the Same Old Girl.

It's the same old team,
 You really must admit
 That it's the same old team;
 It hasn't changed a bit.
 Altho' some boys have gone away
 It's easy to be seen
 The bunch that now is playing
 Is so far from being green,
 That it's the same old team;
 O, yes, my dear, it seems
 That it's the same old team
 We yelled for in our dreams,
 And they're playing
 As they never played before.
 What's more,
 City High need hope no longer,
 For old Central's team is stronger;
 It's the same old team.

Tune: Cannibal King.

A cannibal king, with a big nose ring,
 Got stuck on a Zulu maid.
 And every night, when the moon was bright,
 Across the canal he'd wade,
 And hug and kiss his dusky miss
 All under a greenwood tree.
 And when they met they sang a duet
 That sounded like this to me:
 Yackety, Yack! etc.

Tune: To Have and To Hold.

To have, to hold the ball, boys;
 To have, to hold the line.
 To have, to hold the pennant
 For Central would be fine.
 You're playing for old Central,
 Her honor you must save;
 The pennant win for Central, then,
 To have, to hold, to wave.

Tune: Trail of the Lonesome Pine.

Let us give three cheers for Central High school,
 And the team of Central High.
 For the football boys let's make a noise,
 For they are the same who won us fame.
 O, boys, we are counting on you,
 You must win! That's just what you must do.
 You are fighting now for Central High School,
 You're the hope of Central High.

The Lyceum Course

This year for the first time in the history of Central High School, an effort was made to secure for the school and its patrons a series of high-class entertainments. The lyceum course presented this year was in the nature of an experiment and the success of the experiment financially and otherwise was such as to warrant its continuance as a permanent feature of the school calendar.

The entertainments were secured through the Alkahest Lyceum Bureau of Atlanta, Ga. There were five attractions offered, and each of them was highly satisfactory. The Chicago Glee Club appeared first, and the songs and readings given by them pleased the large audience assembled to hear them. The second number on the course was also a musical entertainment. The Riheldaffer-Gailey Concert Co. furnished an opportunity for the patrons of the school to hear a very high grade of music at a merely nominal cost. Mr. Chas. M. Newcomb of Chattanooga presented the third of the series, and his appearance met with the applause it so richly merits. Ross Crane, cartoonist, humorist, musician and clay modeler, secured the wrapt attention of his audience at both of his performances and formed a fitting climax to the course.

The plan whereby each student selling two tickets could secure a third free, enabled almost one hundred and fifty students to attend the entire course without cost to themselves. The same arrangement will obtain next year when a course of even greater merit will be offered. Mr. Newcomb and the Chicago Glee Club will reappear in next year's program.

Electric Service

A Fascinating Subject for Young Men and Women.

STUDENTS of High Schools should familiarize themselves with electrical development and the relation electricity bears to all activities in the various phases of life. Devotees of history will find no fiction more engrossing than the story of how man made the Twentieth Century the "ELECTRIC AGE." Lovers of Physics and Chemistry make their most interesting experiments in the field of electric energy.

Followers of Manual Training make their efforts doubly effective by application of Electric Power.

The Domestic Science girl makes her work mere play by the use of Electrical Appliances for the kitchen tasks.

FIRST STEP IMPORTANT

In choosing a profession, how many carefully consider their capabilities, and for lack of a practical business training, drift or slide into an occupation that seems easiest, thinking only of immediate conditions? Do you realize that the first step is important? True success is achieved by the person who clearly discerns his object and goes straight to the point. There is but one straight road to success—that is ability; and ability never lacks opportunity, nor does it remain undiscovered. There are many business men anxious to secure the services of a practical bookkeeper, stenographer, typewriter operator, billing clerk and general office assistant. But, to meet the business man's requirements the applicant must be practical and capable. To this end we devote our very best efforts. We have the "ways and means" by which you can pursue a practical course of training so that you will be able to accept one of the many positions that will be offered, if you are prepared.

In the publication of any periodical it is necessary to secure advertising for the purpose of financing the publication.

In order to do this you must show the advertising public that advertising in any Central publication is a paying proposition.

In other words, you must prove to them that the student body patronizes their advertisers.

So it is to your benefit that you patronize the merchants that have helped us make this volume a success.
