FOREWORD

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever."

Interwoven in the very fabric of the life of the Greek was the myth—to him a marvelous thing of truth and beauty. ~ ~ ~

As the myth reflected to the Greek joy in life and love of beauty, we hope that The Champion of '32 will be to you a thing of beauty, "joyous with the joyous youth of yore."

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL

The Class of 1932

ELL, at last, Commencement Day; we are here, three hundred strong. We have come into the fourth and last year of high school life, have won our laurels, and are ready to write "Finis" to this chapter of our life story. We have been proud to step up as "dignified seniors" and do our best to uphold the traditions of Central.

Among the prominent members in the activities of school life at Central during the year 1931-32 are such capable treasurers as Mattie Evelyn Peart and Margaret Day; such hard-fighting football stars who made the decisive touchdowns and held that line for the Purple and Gold, as Louis Miller, Newton Garmany, Lathan McGregor, J. C. French, and John Slack, together with a long list of baseball, basketball, and track boys. We are proud of our quick-witted pen-pushers, Carter Bennett, editor of "The Champion," of W. T. Bales, editor of the "Digest"; of those clever actors who played so effectively their parts: Elsie Lowry, Bessylee Wiggs, Frank Gardner, Sam Robinson, W. T. Bales, Harriet Davis, Jewel Gannaway, Dietz McAbee, Oscar Mansfield, James Roberson, Rufus Turner, and Charlotte Howard; and of our graceful dancers, Mary Alice Witt and Mary Kathryn Richards; of our military leaders, Dietz McAbee and Glen Sylvia. Other important members of the class are the diligent workers of the Commercial Department in the Bank and Bookstore. Faithful service badges are due Johnnie Rawlings, Hazel Crawford, Bruce Cain, Henry Tate, and Jeanetta Pendergrass.

Those green Freshman days come to mind often. We timidly called upon those important Ushers to tell us where we were and whither to go. How those good-looking heads could hold all they knew was beyond our ken. Our Freshman officers were W. T. Bales, president; John Slack, vice-president; Mattie Evelyn Peart, secretary and treasurer.

The City-Central game of our first year was a memorable one, the most exciting time of the whole year. Everyone was imbued with the Central spirit, yelling with all his might for the big team. When the game was won so gloriously we were nearly crazed with joy and excitement. Next came the basketball, baseball, and track seasons, followed by the first long summer vacation.

In the fall of 1929, with perhaps a little more dignity and thoughtfulness, we planned our studies in line with what we hoped our work of the future would be. On the whole we were better students, more thoroughly Centralites, as was to be expected. W. T. Bales was elected president, with Newton Garmany again as vice-president, and Margaret Day as secretary and treasurer. More interest was taken this year in Glee Club work, athletics, school societies, and organizations. Rather a plugging, colorless year it was, but with solid foundations laid for the last two sessions of high school.

The Junior year seemed to bring forth rays of light from every direction. We were progressing so fast in this our school world we felt almost as pompous as Seniors. Dietz McAbee was elected president, Newton Garmany, vice-president, Margaret Day, secretary and treasurer. Freda Cooper, as class pianist, brought us glory. The presentation of "Seventeen" as the Junior play was an outstanding event of the year. It was a great success with Frank Gardner; Margaret Hall and Sue Cooper in starring roles. The big social event of the spring was the Junior-Senior Banquet, which was a most enjoyable affair. Hard work was necessary to raise the money to defray this and other class expenses. The ice-cream sales force composed of the following members deserves special mention: Ruth Howe, Stella McCarty, Mary Alice Witt, Mary Kathryn Richards, Mattie Evelyn Peart, Alva Bankston, Frances Longley, Ruth Shelton, Charlotte Howard, Mary Alice Rhodes, Helen Copeland.

In the fall of 1932, the Class began its biggest and best year. Seniors at last! Stars in the big show, all of us, with Dietz McAbee in the lead as president, Carter Bennett, vice-president, Margaret Day, treasurer. We had a good year on the football field with success after success, victory following victory. The Senior members of the team were Robert Williamson, Lewis Miller, Newton Garmany, John Slack.

The Senior play, "Sun-Up," which was quite a departure from the usual Shakespearean productions by Central Senior classes, was given in December. This modern play, with its well-chosen cast made a hit at all performances. The leading parts were played by Jewel Gannaway, James Roberson and Harriet Davis.

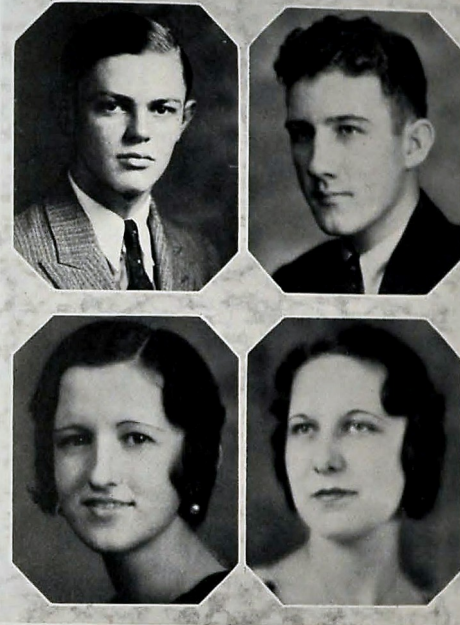

Spring brought a rather frenzied round of athletics, activities, and many pleasant events.

The list of Four-Year Honor Students published in February, bore the following names: Mary Alice Rhodes, Helen Copeland, Elizabeth Vanable, Sinclair Ashley, Charlotte Howard, Jewel Gannaway, John Roberson, Eleanor Weller, Mary Alice Witt, Johnnie Rawlings, and Edith Walker.

The following were chosen as Commencement Day speakers and Class Day representatives: valedictorian, John Roberson; salutatorian, Sinclair Ashley; faculty representative, Mary Alice Witt; class representative, W. T. Bales; class historian, Helen Copeland; reader of the will, Carter Bennett; class poet, Mary Kathryn Richards; class prophet, Hugh Lee Norman.

With the arrival of commencement week, in rapid succession followed the Senior Picnic, Class Day, Baccalaureate Sermon, finally graduation and the awarding of diplomas. With this event came the climax of four years of joys and trials—a climax marking not an ending but truly a commencement of new experiences in the untried field of the future.

HELEN COPELAND.

COLONEL JAMES E. WARE

SERGEANT G. M. HARRIS

Central R. O. T. C.

The R. O. T. C., which plays a very important part in school life, is a valuable asset to Central High School. The officers, through their physical training, neat appearance, and influence for order and obedience, command the respect of the entire student body.

Much of the success of this organization is due not only to the splendid corps of student officers, but especially to the leadership of Colonel James E. Ware and Sergeant G. M. Harris.

Colonel Ware is an army man of wide experience, having seen service in the Philippines, on the Mexican Border, and at Varennes-en-Argonne as a member of the Three Hundred and Sixth Brigade.

Sergeant Harris is an honor graduate of N. C. O. School of Fort Benning, Georgia. His military experience has taken him to the Mexican border, to the Philippine Islands and to China.

THE SEASON

A strong claim for the City Championship and an undisputed title for the Eleventh District Tennessee Secondary Schools Athletic Association rewarded the Central High Football Team at the close of the 1931 season.

The climax of the season was that of the City-Central game. It was one of the hardest fought of all the games in the history of their annual conflict and resulted in a 2 to 0 victory for Central. Bunn, Trew, Bradford, Miller, Johnson, Billings, Settles, Denny and Adams were the nine Central men who obtained berths on the All-City first and second teams picked by the city newspapers.

The record of this year for fair play, clean sportsmanship, and good morale, both of the team and of student body, has never been surpassed.

Basketball

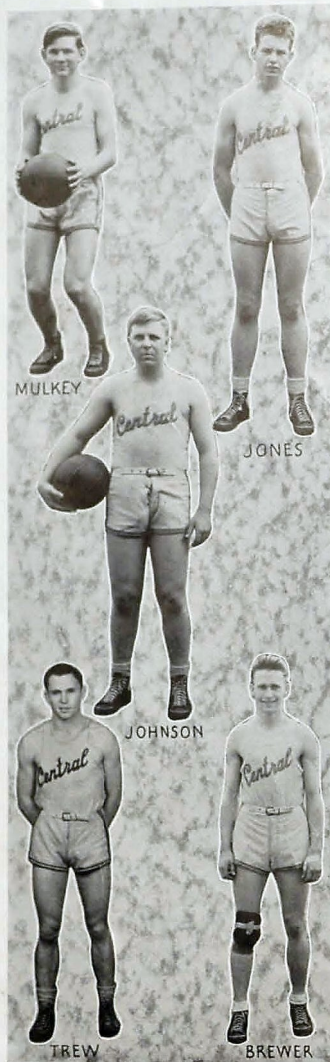

The Central High School Basketball Team won eleven games and lost seven games out of the total of eighteen games played during the season 1931-32. Central scored 554 points against 512 scored by their opponents.

The team suffered a lapse in the middle of the season after a good start but ended with a rally by defeating City in the last scheduled game of the T. S. S. A. A. league.

Central lost two games to Englewood, the champions, and one game each to Etowah, Bradley, City, Nashville Central and Hume Fogg, the two latter not being league games. They defeated McMinn and Notre Dame in both games while gaining one game from each of the following: Etowah, Bradley, City, Daisy, Nashville Central, South Pittsburg and Hume Fogg, the four latter not being league games.

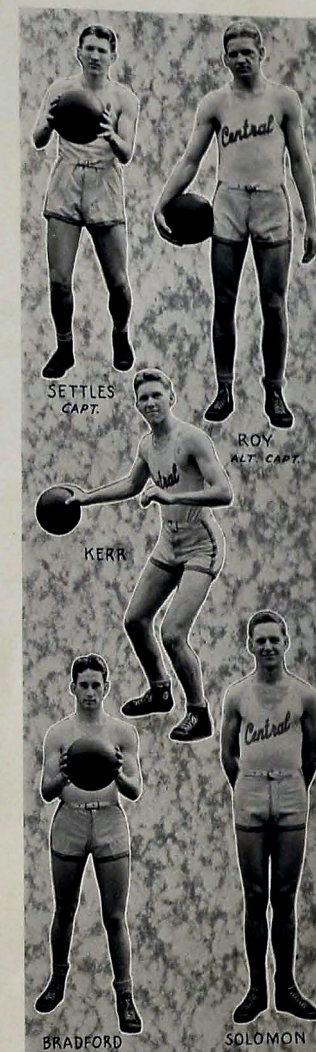

Through the excellent leadership of Lee Settles as captain and the splendid support of the players like Roy, Brewer, Bradford, Johnson, Mulkey, Trew and Kerr, the team did good work and leaves a record of which Central is proud.

The picture of Jerry Perry, who added much to the strength of the team, does not appear here.

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever"

The things most beautiful and most lasting in life are not of the superficial but are rather of the essential nature. They display themselves in personal characteristics which have as their sources noble qualities within. ~ ~ ~ ~ ~

It was with a belief like this that the Seniors chose from the Class of '32 their Favorites. ~ ~ ~ ~ ~

Alma Mater

*What a wonderful school 'tis ours to love,
With its ups and its downs and its joys,
What a wonderful banner the Purple
and Gold,
As it floats o'er our girls and boys.*

*And this wonderful School that I love
the best,
Has a wonderful "rep" so high.
So you've heard of the school that's true
as blue,
Oh, that wonderful school, Central High!*
