The Preface

The mission of history is to inspire. Long years ago in the dawn of European civilization, the Romans built an empire destined to rule the known world. As a means of binding this great empire together they developed the Roman laws. These same people have left the mark of their influence on art, literature and learning. ~ ~ ~

As great builders, the Romans stand as an example of a people for whom there was no royal road to accomplishment, for they endured untold hardships and braved endless dangers in their conquests. ~ ~ ~

It is the desire of the makers of this book that every Senior of the Class of '34 desiring to achieve success may ever build substantially and leave behind him a lasting memorial of work well done, as did the Romans. ~ ~

Dedication

*As a token of our sincere esteem, we dedicate this the 1934
Champion*

to

Miss Laveta Epperson

a true Roman in her devotion to the speech arts, whose genial manner and friendly understanding, whose outstanding ability as teacher and director, and whose unfailing loyalty to our Alma Mater have endeared her to every Central student.

THE EDITORS.

Foreword

*Stumbling o'er recollections; now we clap
Our hands, and cry, "Eureka!" "it is clear."*

RHINE, CHILDE HAROLD—RYKER.

As "Eureka" was to Archimedes the cry of joy at the accomplishment of a great work and the clearness which comes through understanding, so may The Champion of '34 clarify days that are gone by waking vivid recollections of high ideals conceived and practiced, lasting friendships formed, and ambitions realized through achievement.

Alma Mater

*What a wonderful school 'tis ours to love
With its ups and its downs and its joys;
What a wonderful banner the Purple
and Gold
As it floats o'er our girls and boys.*

*And this wonderful school that I love
the best
Has a wonderful "rep" so high.
So you've heard of the school that's true as blue—
Oh, that wonderful school, Central High.*

Senior Class History

In order to learn of the growth and progress of the world men seek histories, which have recorded customs, habits, and noteworthy events of the past. The class of '24 has made history in Central—a history which has been recorded and will be handed down to future generations of Central students. Since nothing can be more interesting than the story of how men and women have lived their lives in the past, what could be more fascinating to the class of '24 in the years to come than to turn to their history and read the story written there. Like the history of the world, our account may be divided into the ancient, medieval, modern, and current history.

ANCIENT HISTORY.—An ancient history covers more than half the span of our recorded knowledge as our freshman year seemed our longest. Everything was new and we were green and inexperienced. That period of adjustment to new surroundings then seemed an uncertain and laborious one. When we entered Central in 1921 we learned of her traditions and felt her school spirit, both of which we appropriated for our own and determined to uphold. At our first meeting as a group to elect officers we chose Clarence Hartman, president; H. L. Brown, vice-president; Frank Tipton, secretary.

MEDIEVAL HISTORY.—This class returned in '22 a more confident group, but with the same determination that was found on the day of our arrival at Central. This Sophomore year was much like the rough impetuous Middle Ages when things still seemed hazy, but when men worked on, ever looking forward to something better. The officers for this year were Ed Vandenberg, president; Mary Kelley, vice-president; Charles Higdon, secretary; and Mildred Gross, treasurer. We, like the people of old, closed this year with brighter hopes and a spirit of a true awakening, for now we realized that just ahead were two of our best years.

MODERN HISTORY.—When we reached our Junior year in the fall of 1923, we felt that the dawn had truly come, and now as in Modern history from a more direct contact we had a better understanding of our school and what was expected of us. With two years of experience our class started the year of '23 with the election of Charles Higdon, president; Alma Vance, vice-president; Mary Kelley, secretary; and Arbie Johnson, treasurer. This year held for us unexplored fields of rich experience.

An outstanding event of the era was the Junior party which was a jolly, get-together affair where members of the class became better acquainted. A little later came our second event, the Junior Play, "Officer 44," with Foster Hurn playing the title role as Phobus, Mildred Gross as Helen Benton, Ed Darr, Travers Gladwin, a few young men who were always seeking excitement. Other parts were taken by Charles Ottinger, Barbara Doughty, Gertrude Witt, Wayland Moore, Bob Anderson, Newton Eagle, Carl Gaines, J. D. Hardin, Alton Long, John McDaniel.

The Junior year closed with a class anxiously awaiting the time when modern history would pass into the current history of the Senior year.

CURRENT HISTORY.—Seniors at last! Our dreams had finally come true! But as in the case of a great many fond dreams we awoke to the stern reality that the Senior year with all its joys must have its share of work and problems. From the class of '23 had fallen on our shoulders the mantle of many responsibilities both to ourselves and our Alma Mater. We selected our most competent leaders as class officers: Charles Higdon, president; Arbie Johnson, vice-president; Mary Kelley, secretary; and Raymond Sparkman, treasurer.

Military was an important factor for the members of our class. Commanding officers and their sponsors were Major Charles Higdon, Edith McCoy; Captain Roddy Huff, Lucy Snyder; Captain Raymond Sparkman, Robert Higgins; Captain V. E. Williams and Barbara Doughty.

Many delightful and interesting publications of the "Tiger" were edited under the leadership of Leroy McLaughlin, editor, and Gertrude Witt, associate editor.

Never before in the history of Central has a more exciting dramatic and interesting production been staged than the "Children of the Moon," with Mildred Gross, Charles Higdon, Martha Morgan, Foster Hurn, Ed Darr, Martha Backlin, Myra Moore, and Carl McDaniel as the performers. The play was presented in the auditorium December 13, the day that the Christmas vacation began.

A capable staff was elected to publish the "Champion" of '24. The members nominated by the teachers and elected by the class were Robert Adams, editor-in-chief, Sara Ellis, Delmon, Wilson, Dorothy McConnell, Martha Morgan, Truman Brooks, Charles Higdon, George Edwards, Jean Austin, and Estelle Godwin. Junior representatives, Virginia Morgan, Sophomore representative, Carl Johnson, Freshman representative.

An outstanding honor of Central was conferred upon twenty-eight members of our class in their election to the Lookout Chapter of the National Honor Society. They were: Robert Adams, Jean Austin, Fern Correll, Sara Ellis, Leroy McLaughlin, Sara Florence Taylor, Mary Louder, Monroe Whitaker, Carl Milnes, Bertie Tyrrell, Clarence Hartman, Gertrude Witt, Geneva Davis, Geneva Crawley, Herbert Anderson, Annie Mae Ross, Joe Roper, James Massey, Roddy Huff, Esther Taylor, Rachel Tarborough, Martha Morgan, George Edwards, Truman Brooks, Virginia Duffier, Charles Higdon, Dorothy Grayson, and Mildred Gross.

The class had its share of men in the field of athletics, among these were the following lettermen: Herman Adams, James Massey, John Hedrick, Clarence Hartman, Lawrence Mann, James Pfleger, Sanford Davis, Bennett Dodge, George Edwards, Charlie Davis, Carson Smith, Lee Settles, J. T. Smith, Howard Fleming, Monroe Whitaker, Arthur Ludford, Clyde Kerr, Alex Altman, and Arbie Johnson who served as Captain of basketball as well as football and added another Central High star to the list of "All City" men.

As the year moved into the second semester and Valentine drew near the class enjoyed a Valentine Balloon party in the gymnasium Friday February 5. Many will remember this as a gala occasion when they were entertained by "Famous Lovers," "Cupid's Archers" and "Lovers' Promenade."

Days passed into weeks and weeks into months until finally class day arrived with the girls attired in their beautiful dresses and the boys in their white ducks and dark coats. The speakers for this memorable occasion were: Robert Adams, historian; Martha Morgan, poet; Ed Darr, reader of the will; and Clarence Hartman, prophet.

As nature's year passes from spring into summer, so our senior year gradually faded from the bright anticipations of commencement into the month of graduation.

"What is so rare as a day in June?
Then, if ever, come perfect days."

and so our commencement day dawned with its invitations, its gifts, its caps and gowns and finally its long stately procession down the aisles of the Memorial Auditorium. Our speakers, Leroy McLaughlin, valedictorian; Sara Ellis, salutatorian; Charles Higdon, class representative; and Sara Florence Taylor, faculty representative, did honor both to their class and Alma Mater. Thus on this evening of a day in June another class went out from Central and the history of the class of '24 was brought to a close.

Sophomore Class History

IN the years preceding 1933-34 the Sophomores have always participated in the school events. The class of this year was just as anxious to please its Alma Mater as those Sophomores of the past. We are eager to uphold her ideals, reputation, and name.

The first meeting this year was held for the purpose of electing officers. The following were chosen because of their capability and willingness to serve: Ed Rice, president; Paul Bowen, vice-president; Bobbie Jean Routt, secretary; and Doris Thompson, treasurer. The officers for last year were: Ed Rice, president; Edgar Black, vice-president; Mary Grace Card, secretary; and Jack Heard, treasurer.

Because the Sophomores headed the roll this year with a total of 428 pupils, it was decided that a class this size should have colors. The combination of blue and white was chosen—the blue for truth, and the white for purity.

In the field of athletics the Sophomores have been outstanding. Many of the boys have gone out for baseball, basketball, and football. The class is very proud of Leon O'Daniels and Desmond Vandiver, who played in the football game against City High and made for themselves an enviable record.

Among those making high marks in scholarship are Ed Bower, Gene Carr, Margaret Crawford, Leroy Glascock, Lucille Rutledge, Mildred Wilhoit, Louise Delzell, John House, Thelma Harden, Margaret Dailey, and Bertha Malstrom.

The Senate members from the Sophomore class are Margaret Crawford, Dorothy Gannaway, Edna Ellis, Homer Fansler, Paul Bowen, Frances Deakins, Doris Thompson, Rosabell Keown, Marie Moore, Anna Belle Cooke, Anna Kemper, Bertha Malstrom, Ed Rice, and Louis Eldridge.

Doris Thompson, Dorothy Gannaway, Virginia Carlton, Bobbie Jean Routt, Sara McKay, Virginia McCoy, and Mary Frances Allen are members of the Varsity Glee Club, while Gus Gothard, George Verhey, Herman Ernst, Nick Ballinger, Dorothy Mattlock, Helen Brown, Chloe Owen, Frank Ward, and Edward Berkemeire play in the orchestra. Those in the band are Herman Ernst, George Verhey, Donald Haines, Bobbie Jean Routt, Jimmie Lynn, James Cyphers, Ellsworth Farris, and James Smith.

Last year Ed Rice was Sophomore representative for THE CHAMPION. This year Virginia Morgan is the representative selected from those who contested for the place.

With the beginning that this class has made the outlook for the next two years is promising.

Freshman Class History

THE fall of 1933 witnessed the birth of President Roosevelt's N. R. A. We admit that it is an amazing experiment. However, the same fall had additional wonders in store for us. We were to begin a new school life. That life was to be lived at Central High! Ever since we were large enough, we had eagerly looked forward to the time when we would attend Central and be a part of all that has made her name great.

Now we are actually a part, every three hundred and fifty-eight of us. We have the distinction of being the largest Freshman class ever to have been enrolled at Central.

Our corps of officers would be difficult to surpass. We chose Carl Johnston, president; Billy Daggett, vice-president; Kathryn Brown, secretary; and Fred Hetzler, treasurer.

At the beginning of the year the student body, and also the faculty, apparently took no special notice of us. And after all, why should they? There were freshmen before us and there will be freshmen after us. But it wasn't long until we began to show them we were no ordinary, average group. In each emergency we have cooperated and responded. When we were asked to appear on the chapel programs the only difficulty we had was in determining just which ones of our many talented members should represent us. At the time of our biggest athletic event of the year, we sold our share of the tickets and did our part at the game.

We realize that four years from now we must take the places of the present Senior class. Already we are anxiously looking forward to that time and hope that our class history will be aglow with outstanding accomplishments by those of us who have tried to make a good beginning in our freshman year of 1933-'34.

Military History

The Romans have ever been renowned as leaders in the field of law and order. Through stern insistence on unrelenting obedience Rome's power for a time extended over the known world. Among her outstanding men she numbers some of the greatest military leaders of history—Caesar, Pompey, Augustus.

As the value of military discipline was realized then, so today forward looking men have seen fit to give to the youth of this country advantages in training of the soldier. Central's Reserved Officers' Training Corps has rendered valuable service in military training. Her record in this work has been an enviable one and that of the Battalion of 1933-34 has been no exception.

The success of Central's military department is due largely to the efficient officers in command, Lieutenant-Colonel Ballard Lyerly and Sergeant G. M. Harris.

Lieutenant-Colonel Ballard B. Lyerly, formerly stationed at Alcatraz Island, San Francisco Bay, California, assumed his duties as Professor of Military Science and Tactics at Central on November 3, 1932. He succeeded Lieutenant-Colonel James E. Ware, who retired in the summer of 1932.

Colonel Lyerly, enlisting in the army in 1907, has had twenty-six years of military experience. He has served in various garrisons throughout the United States and Foreign Possessions, as well as in France during the World War.

Sergeant George M. Harris, military instructor at Central, who for fourteen years has been in military service, enlisting in the army in 1919, has had a colorful military career. His years of experience have taken him to the Mexican border, the Philippine Islands, and China.

In 1927 Sergeant Harris graduated with honors from the N. C. O. school at Fort Benning, Georgia. He was then transferred to recruiting duty in the Chattanooga district. In the summer of 1929 he was assigned to the post of Instructor of Military Science and Tactics at Central and has held that position since.

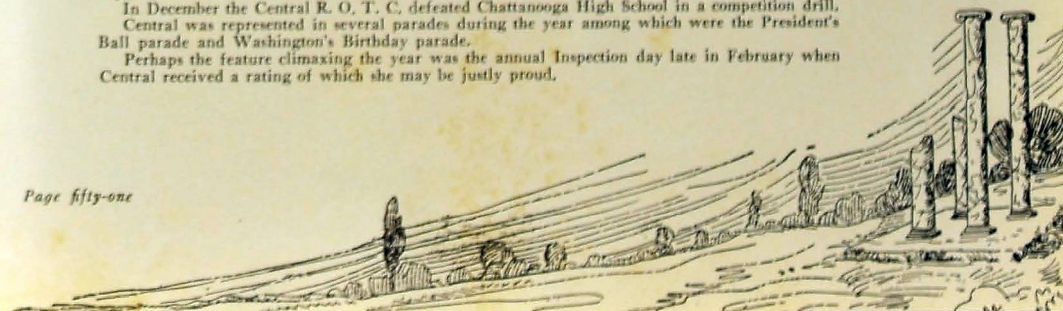

Early in the school year, 1933-34, the tentative officers of the R. O. T. C. were called together for the purpose of drawing military equipment and discussing instructions for the year.

The battalion, the largest Central has ever had, was commanded by: Cadet Major Charles Higdon; Captain Roddy Huff, Company "E"; Captain Raymond Sparkman, Company "F."

The school year of 1933-34 was eventful for the R. O. T. C. The observance of Armistice Day with the military department in charge in the auditorium stands out as one of the red-letter days.

In December the Central R. O. T. C. defeated Chattanooga High School in a competition drill. Central was represented in several parades during the year among which were the President's Ball parade and Washington's Birthday parade.

Perhaps the feature climaxing the year was the annual Inspection day late in February when Central received a rating of which she may be justly proud.

The Football

At the beginning of this year's football season the prospects for a good team seemed very bright, yet Central had one of the hardest schedules a Central team had ever undertaken. The team "got off" to a good start by beating Stevenson High by a score of 19 to 0. Then the same team came back the next game to win over a strong Etowah eleven, 12 to 0. They played Bradley to a scoreless tie, 0 to 0. The next game resulted in a loss to the strong Morristown eleven by a score of 7 to 0. The Morristown eleven made only two first downs. About this time Central lost a great ball carrier, C. L. Billings, who found it necessary to leave school. Unfortunately, the following week the team lost other men, which made it necessary to work into an almost entirely new "purple wave." In the game with Boys High, the Champions of Georgia, Central was the loser by a score of 24 to 0. In this game the team suffered a great blow in the injury of Jerry Perry, who was a great fighter and a bulwark of strength in the line.

In the face of many difficulties, Central warriors managed to hold their own very well. In the Back on her home field with the support of the student body, Central came into their own by beating Notre Dame, 7 to 6. Then came the climax of the season, that ancient rival game with City High school. Two of our most valuable players were ruled off just before the game, but that old spirit of Central which knows not defeat came upon the alumni, student body, and players. Central fought City to a 0 to 0 score, thereby tying with two other schools for the Eleventh District Championship of Tennessee.

Central was honored in having men on the All-City teams. Captain Johnston, tackle, made the Times All-City, News All-City, and WDOE All-City teams. Henson, halfback, made the News All-City team. Massey, guard, made the All-City second team. Sims, tackle, made the second team. J. T. Smith and Oza Akers received honorable mentions.

Basketball

GEORGE EDWARDS, Guard

"Bird-legs," who is a two-year varsity man, plays a steady game, fighting every minute that he is in. Bird-legs has ability to adapt himself to the need of the game, which is a rare athletic gift and has meant much to Central's team.

CARSON SMITH, Forward
Alternate Captain

"Cop" is one of Central's best offensive men who can always be depended upon to be in his place and to do his part in the game. He has been a valuable player on the varsity for two years. With his graduation, Central loses a man whose place will be hard to fill next year.

ARBIE JOHNSON, Guard and Captain

"Arbie" is a captain in the real sense of the word, since he filled this place both for football and basketball. He is a four-year man on the varsity; he is a hard fighter from the beginning to the end of the game. His leadership among Central cagers will be sorely missed.

FLETCHER JOLLY, Forward

"Smead" is an example of a freshman who did good work on the varsity. He is dependable and ready to do his part when the time comes. Jolly is one of the good prospects for an outstanding basketball player in his coming years at Central.

ARTHUR LEDFORD, Center

"Pete" is a center who is a first-class, all-around player. He is a man always "ready to go" when called upon. This is his first year. He has a self possession which makes him cool-headed in the game. A good player is going to have to rise up to fill his place on Central's team.

Basketball

LEON O'DANIEL, Center

"Frog" is the kind of player who is good wherever he is placed, either on the offensive or defensive. With one year's experience on the varsity, he is expected to step forth into even greater glory another season.

BENNETT HODGES, Guard

"Doc" is small but fast, and makes up for his lack of height by that fighting spirit. Having had two years of varsity experience, "Ben" has the promise of being one of the team's strongholds in the future guard line of Central.

W. H. McAFEE, Forward

"Dub," though little is loud, for he has fight and speed enough to make up for all that he lacks in height. McAfee is a superior scorer. Since this is his first year on the varsity, "Dub" has the promise of a brilliant cage career.

MONROE WHITAKER, Guard

"Red" has made a splendid record as guard for his team in his two years on the varsity. His height is in his favor while his clear aim and level head make him an accurate "shot." Red leaves a yawning gap in the team which will be one of next year's problems to fill.

CHARLES DAVIS, Forward

"Charlie" is a player who means business when he gets into the game. He is fast as well as a good "shot." Central is counting on him next year.

ALBERT BAKER, Forward

"Preacher" made the team after photographs were sent in. He is a big man and a fine prospect for next year.

Baseball

The Balesmen were up to their old tricks by winning another Championship of the Eleventh District Baseball League in the spring of 1933. It was a case of teamwork, for each member of the team did his share by giving Pitcher Steinman his support in helping him to win eight ball games and lose none. Woodrow Johnson was the leading batsman for the Centralites.

Central will lose by graduation the following men from her baseball team this year: Mann, Barber, Steinman, Settles and W. Johnson. From all prospects, this year of '34 promises a team as good if not better than that of last year.
